WILL WONDER WHY HOOVER SHOULD BE NEUTRAL ON SERIES

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 16.—Mr. Hoover is eligible for the Noble peace prize for his self-restraint in trying to remain neutral during the ninth inning of the game.

There was no particular reason why he should have been so careful. They are both Republican cities and both politically clean and wholesome and law abiding, and it was a great ad for justice and clean living that two such righteous cities should compete in our greatest sporting event and it should be an example to these corrupt hoodlum towns, for them to turn over a new leaf and try and be upright and a credit to their inhabitants, and may be they would win a pennant once in a while.

It just shows you that justice always prevails.
Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Along with many other interesting things, Pennsylvania has some very beautiful and unusual caves. Pa New was told this morning. Penn cave, in Center county, not far from Rockview penitentiary, is not often heard of, but is a marvelous sight, says a local woman. Many New Castle people go hundreds of miles to see caves in southern states when in good old Pennsylvania we have caves just as remarkable, if not so large.

Many local hunting enthusiasts are training their rabbit hounds now in preparation for the rabbit season, which begins November 1. James Keck of Bellevue avenue, was out in the surrounding woods Tuesday trying out a hunting dog. And many more are doing the same. Rabbits are going to be S. O. L. It seems to Pa New, with so many locals intent upon rabbit dinners.

Six years ago, Merle and Ernest Brooks, of Highland avenue extension, caught three young groundhogs in a field which adjoins their home. The groundhogs were adopted by a beagle hound, belonging to one of the brothers. Two of the wild animals died. The third became a great pet, and according to Ernest Brooks it is more tame than many dogs. It is fed anything, they say.

On Friday afternoon the new athletic field at the George Washington Junior high school will be placed in use for the first inter-school game of the season. The new field is now one of the best in the city, having been graded and put in shape during the past summer, when extensive work was done on it. The field will be formally dedicated just prior to the game.

Pa New changed to be on the top of one of the latest things on the public square late Tuesday afternoon and got an unusual view of New Castle. It looked like the heart of quite a large city. In a panorama, looking east and north, could be seen the tops of the First National Bank building, the Union Trust building, the Greer building, the Temple building, the Castleton and just above, The Cathedral. With these buildings protruding above the roofs that were visible, it was quite an impressive picture of New Castle's business area.

Street department employees were giving the downtown streets a cleaning up this morning. These are the days when the street department men are obliged to visit the same streets frequently in a short time, because of the falling leaves. Hundreds of loads of leaves are hauled off the city streets during the autumn.

There are a good many optimists in New Castle. Almost every day the Chamber of Commerce receives a letter or two to be mailed when air mail service is first established here. Some of the letters are now beginning to (Continued On Page Two)

BUILDING ABLAZE WHEN DISCOVERED

Residents Of Adjoining Apartments Driven From Building By Menacing Flames

Fire of undetermined origin caused damage of more than $7,500 shortly before midnight last night, when the second and thirds floors of the Book building in the rear of 464 and 466 Neshannock avenue were gutted.

The building, which is of brick, is three stories in height and constructed in the shape of an "L". It was occupied in the rear by the Community Laundry, while the front part contained apartments.

The first alarm was sounded by people living on Walnut street, on the bluff across the river, who noticed fire shooting through the second and third floors. They called Central station and an alarm was sounded from Box 23. Other residents residing along Neshannock avenue noticed the flames shortly afterwards and also called Central station.

Break Out Again
When Assistant Chief Stockman and his men arrived on the scene, they noticed that the blaze had assumed considerable proportions and a second alarm was sounded, calling out No. 2 and No. 5 departments. After battling the blaze for an hour, it was brought under control, but the firemen remained on the scene until almost 4 o'clock this morning, playing water on the smoldering ruins. They were again called to the scene 7 o'clock this morning when smoldering embers burst into flame in a room on the third floor, which had been used as a cold storage room when the building was occupied by the Bauman Ice Cream company, many years ago. This room is lined with cork, and it is believed that a few sparks remained in the cork insulation which smoldered for several hours and then burst into flame. A line of hose had been left at the scene and several men from Central (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The Senate's lobby investigation turned toward sugar today.

Following rumors that huge sums of money have been spent pro and con in the lobby warfare over sugar duties, the Senate committee summoned spokesmen from the organizations of Cuban sugar cane growers and American beet sugar producers.

H. A. Austin, spokesman for the United States Beet Sugar Company, and a representative of American Growers, was to be the opening witness. He will be followed by H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba Company, who can speak for the Cuban growers. These two groups have battled for many years over sugar tariffs—a warfare that has been waged relentlessly during consideration of the pending tariff bill.

WILL CONFER WITH CANADIAN OFFICIALS

Anticipate Important An-

(International News Service)
TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 16.—Back on British soil after his historic visit to the United States on a mission of peace, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald faced a busy program here today.

This morning he was to address the American Federation of Labor convention and then attend a luncheon tendered him by a Canadian club.

In the afternoon he will be honored with a degree of Doctor of Laws conferred by the University of Toronto. A public reception and a stag dinner at the government house were to follow before his departure tonight for Ottawa.

To Confer With Officials.
Upon his arrival at the Canadian capital tomorrow Mr. MacDonald will confer with Mackenzie King, Canadian prime minister and other Dominion officials.

These conferences are expected to precede an important announcement from the prime minister concerning his conversations with President Hoover. The contents of the announcement have been closely guarded but it is believed it will touch further upon Anglo-American relations with special references to freedom of the seas.

The prime minister's statement upon reaching Canadian soil that he hoped for a "restful and practically profitable" stay heightened speculation regarding the significance of his expected announcement at Ottawa.

Ishbel MacDonald is enjoying her visit to Canada as much as her stay in the United States. Since crossing the border yesterday she has visited every available point of interest of times with her famous father as her only guide.

Tonight she is scheduled to address the Canadian Women's club at the King Edward hotel.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 16.—The four flood lakes which have threatened Hialeah, a suburb, appeared to be stationary today.

Hialeah city officials declared a rise of less than an inch has been noted there in the past 24 hours. A recession was expected during the day.

Meanwhile, the first casualty was reported. A negro truck driver backed his truck into a high-tensioned wire which charged the water about the machine and caused his electrocution.

No great property damage has been done. Losses consisted mostly of damaged highways and citrus trees.

A drainage ditch to take some of the load of waters out of the Miami canal is being constructed and dykes along the canal are being strengthened.

Before the hospital was opened Mr. Rentz offered a ten dollar gold piece for the first boy born there, ten dollars for the first girl and twenty dollars for the first pair of twins. Mr. and Mrs. Rubels have the distinction of having the first set of twins, Dr. W. L. Campbell officiating.

Mr. Rentz still has two offers open. One is for twenty dollars for the first twins born consisting of a boy and a girl and another is twenty dollars for the first pair of twin boys born.

Local Hunters Find Man's Body Along Shenango

Officers Called To Harbor
By Discovery During Morning

CAN'T DETERMINE CAUSE OF DEATH

Death Of Man Had Occurred Weeks Ago It Is Believed

While hunting ducks along the Shenango river near the Harbor this morning Joseph Lawrence of 1309 South Jefferson street and Steve Tarnoci of 18 West Charles street, found the badly decomposed body of a man.

They notified Sheriff H. M. Reynolds, who with Coroner J. P. Caldwell and State Police Brooks and Shulick, went to investigate. They found the body in a clump of bushes about one-fourth mile south of the Harbor bridge. The road passes within about 50 feet of the Shenango river at this point. The body was about 50 feet from the road. The bank of the river was too steep for the body to have been washed to the position where it was found.

Decomposition was such that there was scarcely any flesh on the bones. The skull was entirely bare, and the flesh had practically disappeared from the remainder of the body. Beneath the skull was a clump of thick brown hair in which some gray hairs appeared. There were no upper teeth in the jaw and four teeth were missing from the lower jaw. The man may have had upper false teeth, but none could be found.

Past Middle Life
The body was that of a man apparently weighing about 130 pounds. It was impossible to determine the age, but the teeth indicated that the man was past middle life, probably around 50 years of age. Two little maple trees, about one inch in diameter, were bent down over the body. It was lying face upward, the legs being drawn up in a cramped position.

The man was dressed in a blue jacket, dark serge blue coat, dark striped pants, with a patch of brown material near the left knee. The patch was about three inches square. The man's hat, which had either been brown or gray, was found about eight feet from the body on the side toward the road. One of his shoes was found between the hat and the body. The other shoe was on his foot.

There was nothing in the pockets by which the man could be identified. One of the coat pockets had been turned inside out. The clothing indicated that of a man who had been employed at some kind of laboring work. A bottle was found about 10 feet from the body. It was empty and may have had no connection with the case.

Conjecture on Death Cause
Examination of the skull failed to show any bulle, holes or fractures. So far as officials have been able to learn there has been nobody living in the vicinity who was reported missing.

Woman Battles Wrecking Crew To Save Humble Home On Site Of New Building

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—"Over my dead body."

With these words Tillie Hart today prepared for her most desperate stand against progress typified by steam shovels, five-ton trucks and riveting hammers.

The grim little woman of 56 who steadfastly refuses to vacate her ramshackle home in order that the construction of a 16-story apartment hotel may go on, must today battle a wrecking crew. A wrecking crew which, in addition to its axes, picks and bars, is armed with a supreme court order to evict.

Wrecking is scheduled to begin early today but as much as wreckers love to wreck it is reported that not a man among them is overly anxious to begin stripping Tillie's odd garb house of its ornaments.

For Tillie has shown in previous skirmishes will workers that she is accurate with a brick and will stand for little arguing.

Last night, seated in her favorite rocking chair in the kitchen which affords a commanding view of the ruins about her, Mrs. Hart prepared for another evening in her home.

"Nothing but the police will throw me out," she declared.

One of the reasons that Mrs. Hart is so attached to her rather dilapidated home is that the famous poem "Twas the Night Before Christmas," was composed under its roof.

Work On Two Big Road Projects In District Rushed

Butler, Lawrence And Armstrong Counties Will Benefit By Improved Routes

PERRY HIGHWAY WILL LINK UP COUNTIES

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—Butler, Lawrence and Armstrong counties will benefit from nine miles of highway construction now under way on two routes. Division Engineer T. C. Frame at Franklin reports to headquarters here, that operations are being pushed and the shorter of the two projects will probably be opened to traffic in November.

A section of the Perry Highway, U. S. Route 19, extending 8.59 miles through Slippery Rock, Washington, Scott and Muddy Creek townships in Butler and Lawrence counties is receiving its first surface, of concrete. Linked with other authorized improvements on this route, the new pavement will virtually close the gap between Mercer and the Benjamin Franklin Highway, west of Butler, providing a new and direct hard-surface route between the two county seats. Traffic approximating 5,000 vehicles per day is expected on this section within five years, according to department surveys. Holmes Construction Company, Wooster, Ohio, was awarded the contract at $447,539.25.

The Armstrong county project is being constructed on a half-width plan to maintain traffic on the Benjamin Franklin Highway, U. S. Route 422, in Worthington Borough. Approaches to a newly built county bridge are included, with a total of 0.35 miles of concrete surfacing. Completion is estimated for November 15. The contractor is Rhinehart Brothers, Liverpool, Ohio. The award was made August 2, for $30,455.90.

show signs of age and have almost become worn out with the constant dusting their receive. Postal officials are reluctant to establish air mail service here, because the city is so close to Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

Probability exists that city authorities will prohibit the placing of banners at street intersections here, according to the city solicitor, Robert White. There is a city ordinance which prohibits the placing of banners. According to White, a banner so strung is an evidence of "small townism" and New Castle is too big for such banners.

Plenty of automobiles flocked to the fire on Neshannock avenue last evening, as is the case with most fires, especially where a double alarm is sounded. ## LAUNDRY GUTTED BY FIRE SHORTLY BEFORE MIDNIGHT

Station were detailed to the spot and soon extinguished this second fire. Residents living in the neighborhood, assisted occupants of the apartments from the building and also aided in removing their furniture as it seemed for a time as if the entire building would be gutted. The most serious loss of those residing in the building was sustained by Mrs. Mary Robinson, who lived on the third floor, and who had moved into the apartment only a few days ago. The fire came through into the rooms of this apartment. The second floor was occupied by a family by the name of Reed, while R. W. McKee and family occupied the first floor.

Damage to the rooms of the apartment was done by water and smoke for the most part, although the fire broke through into the second and third floors of the building, adjoining the part occupied by the laundry.

Laundry Hard Hit
Within a very short time after arriving on the scene, a half dozen lines of hose had been laid, and despite the fact that the second and third floors of the laundry were ablaze, the firemen soon had the fire under control. Most of the roof was burned off however, and the interior destroyed.

Carl Richards, proprietor of the laundry estimated this morning that his loss would amount to well over $2,000. He had been unable to make a complete check on the damage. Motors, shafting, belting and other equipment on the second floor, together with a considerable quantity of clothing which had been sent in to be washed, was destroyed. Some damage was also done to the machinery and equipment on the first floor by fire and water. The third floor was unoccupied.

Woman Injured
Mrs. Clarence Lennig of 820 Bonzo street was slightly injured during the course of the fire, when she stumbled over one of the lines of hose which had been laid, sustaining a broken finger and injuries to her knee. She was taken to the Jamestown Memorial Hospital where she received emergency treatment and was then removed to her home. Mrs. Lennig was a spectator at the fire.

The loss to Mr. Richards is considerable as he carried no insurance on the clothing brought into the laundry, and a great quantity of sheets, pillow cases, and table cloths which had been stored on the second floor to be washed today, were destroyed. Insurance on the machinery and equipment is fully covered by insurance however. He is undecided about his future course of action.

Firemen battling the blaze were served with sandwiches and coffee by Capt. Thomson of the Salvation Army, during the night. The firemen were very appreciative of this courtesy.

merely a matter of conjecture. He may have been killed elsewhere and his body brought to the place where it was found. A car driving past could very easily have disposed of a body at this point. The man may have been killed at the point where he was found, but if so it was not by any head injury.

He may have died a natural death. It is possible that there may have been something in the bottle that was responsible either intentionally or unintentionally. From the condition of the body it must have lain in the bushes for several months.

The remains were taken to a morgue and will be held until tomorrow in the hope that someone may recognize the man from the description of the body and the clothing.

"There is no sense in a business man working from seven in the morning until seven at night. That's the old-fashioned idea. Some business men are doing that today, I know. But with all the facilities a business man now has for getting work done quickly and efficiently, he can do as much in eight hours as formerly required 10 and 12 hours. And certainly he owes it to himself to take care of his health."

Mr. Kimball looks fit. He is a well-built, ruddy-cheeked, middle-aged man who discusses mashie irons and niblicks as glibly as he does the manufacturing business—and as enthusiastically.

"My father had no typewriters; now we have typewriters and dictaphones as well. We train our secretaries to write many of our letters. We merely write a note and the secretary writes the letter."

Golf in Moderation
"I don't believe in a business man becoming a 'nut' on golf. But played in moderation you can't beat it. I don't believe the average business man overdoes it. The fact that our

"And don't forget the fine contacts one establishes at a golf club. There is a lot of business done on the golf links nowadays."

How about this 19th hole business?" he was asked.

"The 19th hole is greatly exaggerated," he replied. "In our club at home we have about 250 golfers. I'll wager less than 10 per cent go in for drinking after a round of golf. The majority of the members take an invigorating shower and go home. The best clubs all over the country are discouraging this extra hole."

"Golf itself is enough of a stimulator."

ALL FIVE POWERS READY TO ATTEND PARLEY IN LONDON

holding their enthusiasm in check until it can be seen just what conditions are hedged about France's acceptance.

No Conditions

The American note of acceptance, sent last week, imposed no conditions. Japan's acceptance was likewise unconditional. Conflicting reports reached here as to whether Italy's acceptance is without reservations. As for France, there is little doubt here that her note of acceptance will lay down certain restrictions which may define the limits to which the conference may go.

More and more, it is being recognized here that the fate of the parley lies in French hands. If the French are willing to "go-along" on the general principles already agreed upon between President Hoover and Premier MacDonald the conference can be expected to encounter fairly smooth sailing. If not, there will be storms in London in January.

Seek Concrete Agreement

The most that can be expected from the London meeting is a five-power naval agreement that will reduce existing naval establishments and place all future building on a fixed basis. The least that can be expected is a tri-party agreement between Great Britain, the United States and Japan, which will be of a temporary nature and endure only so long as France and Italy do not embark upon major building programs.

The cornerstone of British naval policy is that the British navy must always be sufficient to meet the sea-power of any European combination. The British successfully carried out that principle in the rationing of capital ships at the Washington Arms Conference, and there is no expectation that they will sacrifice it in London and the efforts are made to ration auxiliary ships of war.

Consequently the success of the January conference, in the larger sense, rests with France and Italy. A tri-party agreement between Great Britain, the United States and Japan, while satisfactory in some respects, would necessarily be elastic, stretching and contracting in accordance with French and Italian building.

There is real concern in Washington over the prospects of the French making any naval agreement entered into at London conditional upon the larger disarmament efforts of the League of Nations. The French thesis is that reduction or restriction of navies is but one block in the disarmament pattern, and that it should be considered in conjunction with land and air armament.

The American attitude toward this thesis is that standing armies and air forces are questions primarily of European and not American concern. The American army is already on a police basis.

If the French adhere to their thesis at London and make any naval agreement conditional upon the larger disarmament objectives of the league, which most statesmen consider visionary at this time, it is more London probable that a tri-party agreement will emerge from the forthcoming gathering instead of a lasting five-power treaty.

These annual conferences concerning peace will at least serve to keep the world reminded there is such a thing.

Derby said it was "unfortunate" that Congress cannot consider any one item without opening the whole tariff schedule for readjustment.

"Experience has shown us that it is impossible for Congress to constantly revise the tariff to meet changing conditions," asserted Mr. Derby.

"Neither France nor Germany have had a general tariff revision in many years, and other foreign countries, likewise, infrequently make general changes in their tariff schedules."

Industry on Efficient Basis

"American industry is by and large on a highly efficient basis, plants, even though relatively new, becoming inefficient or impossible of economical operations, are scrapped and new equipment promptly installed, to the end that the cost of production of the article may be reduced."

"Keeping step with this, it becomes necessary that industry be protected against changing conditions so that industry in this country may have sustained and full operations, with the maximum of labor, at rates comparable with standards built up."

A plea for "fair play" for the railroads was made in a report submitted by S. P. Bush of the American Rolling Mills, Middletown, Ohio. He declared that railway transportation, unlike motor transportation, is "almost completely circumscribed by law and government regulation" and there is largely deprived of the opportunity for individual initiative that the motor industry has enjoyed.

STAR LORE

THE AURORA (Introduction)
By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

In the northern hemisphere we observe the aurora borealis; in the southern, they have the aurora australis—southern lights, just as ours are more familiarly known as the northern lights. Observers in the vicinity of 40th parallel north are rarely favored with an aurora display. From 50th latitude north and beyond the aurora is almost constant, there being faint activity—feeble displays—almost any night. This more constant feature presents a segment of a circle projected above the northern horizon reminding one of a magnificent arching bridge. Beneath it is black, while along the periphery there are manifestations of delicate playful illuminations.

WASHINGTON IS CHANGING

PESSIMISTS and cynics who are inclined to assert that the stodgy old realm of public life never has anything really new to offer should stop a moment to take stock of the great changes wrought this year.

Take Washington for example. It is sometimes said that the more you change the national administration the more it remains the same thing. If this were ever true, it is not true today. There can be no mistaking the new temper and method which have come. Standards of appointment to important office have been raised; a spirit of energy and hopefulness radiates from the white house; even congress is showing itself more responsive to the needs of the day. Compared with other years, the whole atmosphere in the national capital has been renovated.

President Hoover's is a do-something policy. He believes in action and there has been no action. Every wheel and cog in the government machine seems to feel this new power, this driving force. It is reflected in the capital city itself where the largest program of public-building construction is now in progress and not at the snail's pace usually associated with public construction.

TOO MANY FATALITIES AMONG SCHOOL CHILDREN

The Bureau of Child Health of the United States Department of Education makes the startling announcement that 45,000 school children under the age of fifteen are killed in accidents in this country every year. This is too many for our peace of mind. The total almost equals the killed in action in the American army during the World War. We are informed that if deaths of pre-school children are included the grand total amounts to a quarter of million lives yearly, or five times the loss suffered during the war.

After many years of constant and intelligent effort, infant mortality in the United States has been reduced to a gratifying extent, but all of this will go for naught if we are to have such an appalling number of those who are killed after they reach school age. It is a problem that calls for immediate and practical action. The white house conference summoned by President Hoover will undoubtedly suggest much for the safeguarding of young lives, but if it is to be effective it will have to enlist the co-operation of local agencies in all parts of the country.

TRIAL FLIGHT OF NEW BRITISH DIRIGIBLE

The initial flight of the British dirigible R-101 over London has served to confound the extremists among the critics who predicted a few weeks ago that she would never emerge from her hangar, or if she did, would never be flown successfully. As a matter of fact, she is probably as safe as any other airship now built with the exception that she uses hydrogen as her lifting gas in contrast with the non-inflammable helium which fills our American craft.

Now that the R-101 has taken to the air, the next problem is where she will make her long-distance trial trip, remarks the Philadelphia Inquirer. This ship has been built with the view of flying in any of the earth's climatic belts and is fitted particularly for tropical service, in contrast to the R-100 which will be kept out of the hot zone. But R-101 is strictly limited in her destinations by the existence of mooring masts or hangar facilities. And since it is virtually certain that the initial flight will follow the "Empire Route," the objectives will be Ismailia in Egypt and Karachi in India; where new type mooring masts of which great expectations are held have been erected. Another mooring mast has been put up in Montreal, but this is in preparation for a transatlantic flight by the R-100 when that airship makes its appearance.

The British mooring masts are said to meet, for the first time, the mechanical difficulties of anchoring a large airship in free air, and this point is emphasized as most important to the commercial future of these craft, since no air transport company could afford to pay hundreds of men to lead an airship into its hangar at each point of call, when with an efficient mooring mast only a few men would be needed. From the British viewpoint the mooring masts are looked upon as quite as important as the ability of the airship to make fast long-distance flights, since the tests of R-100 and R-101 are regarded as a preliminary to a decision for the development of commercial airship transportation as a supplement to the service now provided by the leading British shipping lines.

ACTUALLY BUILDING A FUTURISTIC CITY

Automobile roads far above the surface. Theaters underground. Factories beneath apartments, and offices above railway tracks. Pedestrian bridges 50 stories high. Cloud-capped towers.

Architects and scientists have thus visioned the terraced cities of the future. And now, says a metropolitan daily, in Cleveland, the Van Sweringen brothers are making the vision a reality of stone and steel.

These brilliant railroad men are completing a mammoth development which centers about a terminal 52 stories high, but embraces every activity of modern life.

Six railroads come together underground. On the level above, but still below the surface, are stores, theaters, restaurants, and business offices. High in the air bridges link buildings together.

The hub of this city of the future is finished. Expending $200,000,000, the planners are tossing in 14 and 18-story buildings as mere trifles, and capping the whole with an 18-story Medical Arts Building, where the sunshine is purest, and patients get their climate untainted.

A department store costing $2,000,000 will serve scores of intercommunicating buildings. Apartments will be within a mashie-shot of factories, but secluded and hidden by grounds and shrubbery. In a space of a few acres every department of life today will work in peaceful unconsciousness of the others.

We shall have something new in modernism if the whole is as intelligently planned as the huge investment demands. The attempt is to bring order to the complexity of city life—and not the least interesting part of the entire development is the fact that Cleveland's worst slums have been wiped out to make it possible.

The three unattainable goals of man in his three periods of life: A certain maiden's heart; a certain old trout; par.

One Big Thing Done.

A New White Slavery.

Big Servant Problem.

The Marvelous French.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE

(Copyright, 1929, King Features

The baseball championship is out of the way, Philadelphia and Connie Mack winning, with President Hoover looking on.

Next come the great football games, with peace, Naval armament reduction and other minor affairs of life sandwiched in between the games.

A committee of fourteen says night clubs are responsible for today's vice, or some of it.

Old "white slave dealers" are antiquated.

The night club owners engage young women through employment agencies, many of them deliberately and knowingly purveyors of vice.

Young women think that they are engaged as dancing instructors. It is the old "white slave" business, on a somewhat different basis with bootleggin as an adjunct.

French women face a serious servant girl problem, but they will get little sympathy from American housewives. Women in France complain bitterly because they have to pay a really good cook $16 a month and board.

"Extravagant Americans" are blamed for the high wages and exaggerated demands of modern French servants. They even ask for hot running water in the kitchen and object to having only a candle for a bedroom light.

It is different in this country.

The French are a marvelous people. No other can compare with them in thrift, determination and sleepless energy.

Just now France is a little bothered by Mussolini's rebuilding of the old Roman empire and its habits, which included the disagreeable custom of traveling north over the Alps.

The French government is spending $100,000,000 real dollars, not francs, increasing the strength of Alpine fortifications.

The French believe in peace, like it, want it. They also believe in safety and being prepared.

France has accumulated one thousand millions of dollars in New York, a good American BILLION, equivalent to twenty-five billions of French francs, as much in real money as Bismarck took from France after the war of 1870. The explanation of such extraordinary resources is simple. FRENCHMEN WORK, AND SAVE.

At home, France is cutting one billion francs from heavy taxes now laid on the French people, and the tax reduction favors large families first of all, with a big reduction in taxes on wages and salaries.

Doctors from Belgium, Switzerland, Germany and Holland are touring the wine regions of the Gironde in France, well supplied with samples of different wines. They will give learned reports on those wines and their effect upon the human system.

The ancient Gauls thought they settled that question long ago.

They came traveling toward the southwest until they reached the land where Burgundy and Bordeaux wines grow. There they stopped and settled down, saying "this is far enough. This is the place to live."

They are still living there. And although they have persistently refused to adopt a few crooks right here among us. Now no offense please, nothing personal.

The British R-101, biggest dirigible in the world, flew over London Monday, carrying 52 passengers, circling the dome of St. Paul's about 600 feet up, an airplane flying ahead, acting as pilot.

Those living will see giant ships of the air, 1,000 feet long, and longer, with smaller ships, flying back and forth bringing passengers from the ground to the high altitude, where there are no storms, and bringing supplies.

WILL THE RIGHT HAND COVET THE BLOOD THAT FLOWS IN TO THE LEFT?

When a middle-aged widow makes short work of her mourning and astonishes her acquaintances by doing many things she never has done before she is enjoying her widowhood because death has released her from slavery.

Her husband was an egoist whose will was her law. He had dominated her life—commanding her as a captain commands privates; selecting her clothes; choosing her friends forming her opinions.

She had submitted with apparent humility but always her heart had burned with resentment and rebellion and when death broke her chains and gave her a tidy fortune she began to enjoy life for the first time since her girlhood.

Men thus released from a similar slavery react in much the same way though less wisely but always their new way of life affords proof that the old way was not of their choosing.

The other day Fred Rents who probably grows weary occasionally, asked his readers if they would miss his "Hints and Dints" department if it was dropped from his New Castle News. Whether he had an ulterior motive in this I do not know but suffice it to say the responses received were so convincing that the chances are he will be writing that department until death parts him from it. I vote with those who responded: the New Castle News would never be the same to me without its "Hints and Dints."

I went down to the creek Friday morning to see the colony of Mallard ducks—different kind of "birds" from the ones Fred often refers to—and counted 39. There may be a few more, but it seems to be the flock has not increased any during the year. Probably caused by too much water in the spring when the nests were washed out.—Franklin News Herald.

Practical aspects of Senator Sheppard's measure in congress to extend the scope of the Volstead law so as to penalize the purchaser of liquor have brought forth much unfavorable discussion. The bill is viewed in the light of a decision by a Federal court in Philadelphia, ruling that the buyer cannot be punished under the existing law. The difficulties of enforcement are pointed out in the current comments.

"Why not go all the way at once," suggests the CHARLESTON EVENING POST, "and make it a crime not merely to buy liquor but to drink liquor? It would be a simple matter to enforce a law like that. All that would be needed would be to divide the population of the United States into two equal parts, appoint one-half dry agents to indict and convict the other half, send these latter to prison and keep them there at the expense of the government. Then we should have everybody supported at the public expense and none would need to labor."

"No new point is raised in the Philadelphia ruling," it is pointed out by the DAVENPORT DEMOCRAT. "It merely sustains a point already made by the law. This is to the effect that purchase is excluded from the list of crimes which the Volstead law creates and seeks to punish. * * * In view of past events, it would seem that the advocates of prohibition would make greater headway in their movement by a reasonable enforcement of the law, rather than by demand for the last ounce of flesh and the last drop of blood."

The constitutional standing of the measure is questioned by the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL, with the statement: "Years ago, we wrote into our Constitution an amendment specifying what should be the basis of our prohibition law. That amendment is clear. * * * It might have provided that the purchase of such liquors should be prohibited. It did not. What it did do, congress cannot now do by statute. There certainly should be no understandable to all. We cannot at this time make purchase illegal without first amending the 18th amendment."

Referring to the recent decision, the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS remarks that "the court evidently stuck close to the wording of the statute, which provides that no person shall manufacture, sell, barter, transport, import, export, deliver, furnish or possess any intoxicating liquor, except as authorized, but the section ends with the statement that the provisions 'shall be liberally construed to the end that the use of intoxicating liquor as a beverage may be prevented.' The Federal law does not prevent the possession of liquor in a private home, for the use of members of the family and bona fide guests, yet it regards any possession of liquor as prima facie evidence that such liquor is kept for illegal purposes, and when a question arises as to those who possess it the burden of proof 'shall be upon the possessor in any action concerning the same to prove that such liquor was lawfully acquired, possessed and used.'"

"The results to be expected from the passage of the Sheppard bill," says the LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT, "probably are about as follows: In those communities where prohibition is not popular, there will be more bribing of public officials, more killing of violators of the prohibition law, more big, little and medium sporadic raids more 'pointing with alarm' by both sides, more—why go on? The status quo isn't so bad as either side paints it, and improvement must come from the application of common sense and not from an undiluted wielding of a policeman's club."

Reasonableness also is demanded by the PETERSBURG PROGRESSIVE INDEX, which argues: "For generations there has been a class in England and America which advocated sterner laws and more numerous laws in order to make the people moral. As late as 1819 an Oxford professor was executed in England for the crime of forgery, which for some centuries had been punishable by death. The law for the punishment of forgery was relaxed and the crime became relatively rare. Poaching was punished by death in England for generations and the crime was common. The law was changed so as to make poaching a petty crime punishable by a jail term, and poaching practically disappeared. Should the Sheppard measure be adopted and result in better enforcement of prohibition, such result would be contrary to human experience, so far as the English-speaking countries are concerned."

Senator Sheppard is going directly contrary to the express intent of the 18th amendment," declares the NEW YORK EVENING POST, "when he seeks to make the buyer as well as seller guilty in a purchase of liquor. He 'nullifies' the intention of the

Just Naturally Good

Good tobaccos . . . made good by Nature, not by "artificial treatment." That's the secret of OLD GOLD'S goodness

A chef may be able to make a doubtful steak taste good by artificial flavoring and sauces . . . But it's still dangerous to your stomach.

So it is with cigarette tobaccos. "Heat-treating" is useful to "set" and "sterilize" the tobaccos . . . and all cigarette makers have used it for years. But "heat-treating" cannot take the place of good tobacco in making a honey-smooth cigarette.

OLD GOLD tobaccos are naturally good. Carefully selected from Nature's best for smoothness, flavor and freedom from throat-scratch.

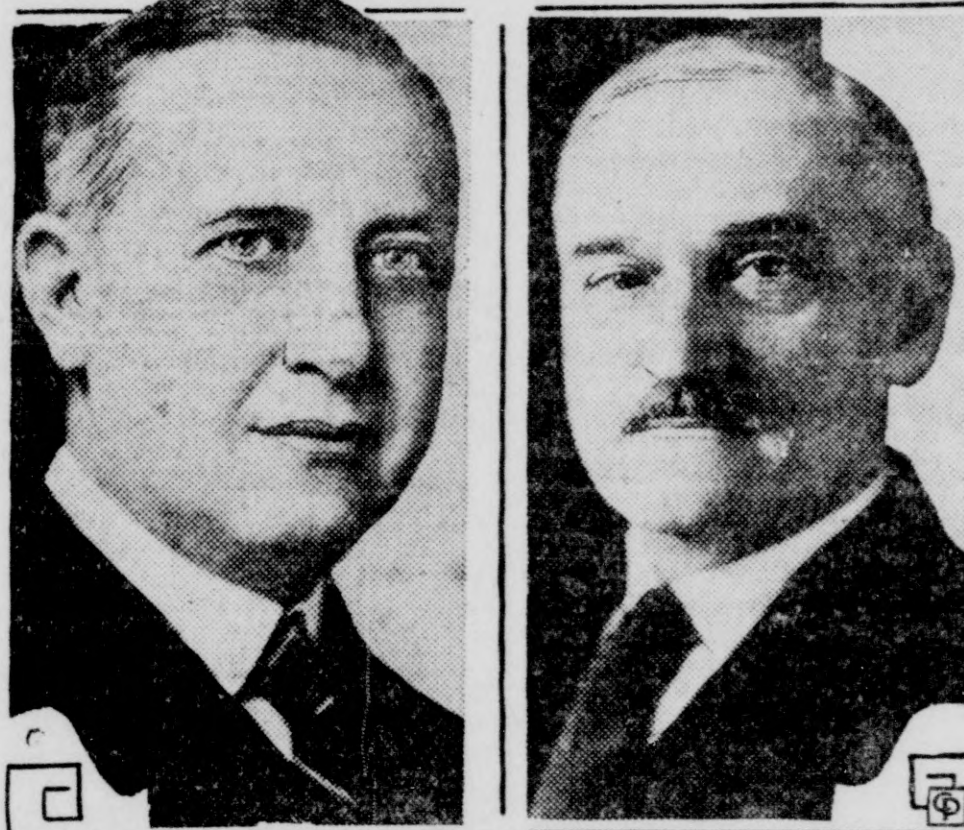

You have only to try a package to get the thrill of this smoother and better cigarette. That will tell you why OLD GOLD'S sales are ALREADY THREE TIMES GREATER than the combined sales of three leading brands during a like period of their existence.

SUGAR GROWERS UNDER FIRE IN LOBBYING PROBE (Continued From Page One)

retention of the existing $1.76 rate, which may yet be approved by the Senate. Both sides incidentally flooded Congress with propaganda favoring their particular causes.

"We wish to find out how much money was raised for this propaganda da and lobbying activity," observed Senator Walsh (D) of Montana, member of the committee. "We want to know where it came from and how it was spent. That large sum was spent is indicated by the amount of publicity given to this subject."

Spent $60,000—The U. S. Beet Sugar Association has spent $60,000 a year to maintain an operating headquarters in the national capital and to circulate farmers, Harry K. Austin, its secretary-treasurer, told the Senate lobby investigating committee today.

Austin's explanation of the beet sugar association's activities launched the Senate's inquiry into sugar lobbies.

"Your annual expenditures are something around $60,000 a year?" asked Senator Walsh (D) of Montana.

"Yes, that's right," replied Austin. In describing his work he told of sending pamphlets to many senators and representatives.

"I don't know if they read them," he added.

"We hope they don't," Caraway observed.

Under questioning by Senator Walsh (D) of Montana, Austin said that 19 of the 30 beet sugar companies in this country belong to the United States Beet Sugar Association. The companies were located chiefly in Utah, Michigan, Colorado and California.

Detailed Explanation. The committee was treated to a rather detailed explanation of the beet sugar industry. Austin said the Great Western Sugar Corporation, with 20 factories working, turned out about 50 per cent of this country's beet sugar production.

"It is the only company that has operated at anything like a profit in the last few years," Austin added. He said the trouble with beet sugar growing in Utah and Idaho in the last few years came from "poor climatic conditions and the white fly pest."

Most of the $60,000 is used to publish bulletins, magazines and pamphlets mailed throughout the country, he said.

"What have you spent this year?" "From the first of January this year up to date our expenditure has been about $60,000," said Austin. "The contributions by member companies has been $60,172, while our total receipts were $61,800."

Austin explained that a publication called "Facts About Sugar" was subsidized by his association. He said the association was pledged to pay all deficits of the magazine and that the deficit this year would be about $12,000.

Building Industry Is Holding Its Own

"There May Be Brief Periods Of Depression" Says
Nicholas Roberts

Easing Of Money Situation
May See Greater Activity
In Building Field

By W. S. COCHRAN
International News Service Financial Editor
Copyright, 1929, International News Service
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—"There may be brief periods when the progress of the building industry will be impeded, but building is such a prime necessity of human life that any prolonged or serious interruption of the nation's building program is extremely unlikely."

This confident survey of building conditions in the United States was made in an exclusive interview with International News Service yesterday by Nicholas Roberts, president of S. W. Straus & Co. Mr. Roberts bases his forecast upon reliable reports received from the offices of the Straus organization all over the United States.

No Glaring Change
According to Mr. Roberts, it is improbable there will be any change of consequence in the building situation during the balance of the present year. "Easing of the money situation," he said, "might bring about greater activities, but it is safe to assume that building activities of the immediate future, based on supply and demand, will continue at levels not far from those of recent months."

"While there has been some slowing down in urban building activities throughout the country during the present year," said Mr. Roberts, "it would not be consistent with good business judgment to view this situation with any suggestion of distress."

The process that have been at work in the building industry this year have simply been an extension in somewhat accentuated form of conditions that have prevailed more or less constantly since 1925.

Mr. Roberts pointed out that the current losses in building operations from month to month have been to quite an extent a reflection of strained currency conditions and high rates in the money market.

"A secondary cause," he said, "has been a natural drift toward a normal status after the tremendous post-war activities which reached their climax immediately preceding 1925."

Reports Are Helpful
"In order to give a clearer picture of the situation, the official reports of building permits issued in the principal cities and towns of the country will prove helpful. In 1925 the estimated total of permits issued throughout the United States was $6,500,000,000. That was the greatest building year this country has ever known. From this peak, the decline in 1926 was not of great consequence, the loss amounting only to $300,000,000 and bringing the total to $6,200,000,000. From 1926 to 1927 there was a much more pronounced drop, the total for the latter year being $5,500,000,000. Last year there was another decline but it was inconsequential. The total was $165,000,000 making the total volume for 1928, $5,335,000,000."

"It is of course not possible at this time to estimate what the loss will be for 1929 but reports from more than 550 of the leading cities and towns of the country show a decline of approximately 7 per cent for the first nine months as compared with the same period last year."

Nothing Alarming
"There is certainly nothing discouraging or alarming in the story told by these figures. They mean that the building industry, having reached somewhat abnormal proportions in the immediate post-war period, has in the last four years been getting down to a basis more consistent with normal demands."

"Every city and town of importance in the country is enjoying a steady growth in population which calls for more building," said the head of the S. W. Straus organization. "As the prosperity of the country continues business expands and additional demands for construction are created. All types of buildings, therefore, tend to become obsolete and must be replaced by modern structures. Another factor of pronounced effect is the gradual improvement in the standard of living of the American people, which means finer homes and apartments. Even the small declines that took place in 1926, 1927, 1928 and so far in 1929 have resulted in a much better adjustment of supply and demand and have laid a sounder basis for the future of the building industry."

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

THE RECORD

Be careful of the record. Two boys in a middle western city are arrested for stealing an automobile. To one the judge shows leniency. To the other he gives a sentence in state's prison. The reason is that one boy had been arrested several times before. The other had not.

How careful the young man is of his clothes, of his appearance. How careful he is of many things which, though important, are not fundamental. But the sheet which above all things must be kept white is the sheet of reputation. Watch out for the record. Do you want to have friends when things go against you? Do you want to borrow money at the bank? Be careful of the record. What is there against you? What have you been up to?

ENTER THE CHURCH

"TOGETHER"
If you and some other people belong to the same church, be TOGETHER in that church. You may differ with each other on the outside. You may not even speak on the street in front of the church. But, in Heaven's name, let us drop our differences at the door. Above all places in the world there ought to be unity in the church. The church is the reservoir of idealism. One goes there as to a fountain of inspiration. A quarrel at a funeral is in better taste than a quarrel in church.

SELF PITY

Self pity is a weakness to be despised. If you begin to feel sorry for yourself, you just naturally become weak and pathetic in your own eyes. And having become weak and pathetic in your own eyes, that is exactly what you find out. If you feel a lump in your own throat over your own troubles, you are just a little fellow who hasn't grown up.

WHEEL CHAIR CHAMPIONS

What a rage for champions and championships! Boys sit on the fence, ride bicycles, stay up in the trees for hours and perhaps days—seeking championships. Endurance contests are the rage. Comes now Sid Hill, of London, who lost both legs in the battle of the Somme, and makes a record run in his wheel chair. It takes him 11 1/2 hours to do seven miles. He does so well he is going to do a 55-mile run, or roll. Good for Sid. Good for all the endurance boys, sitters. Sometimes they are funny, but it's pretty much the spirit of championships which pumps the spirit of progress into our indolent lives.

The children like Ward's Mother Hubbard Bread. That's a good reason why you should buy it. When you buy it save the wrappers from every loaf. They may mean gold in your pocket.—Adv.

UNDER THE WEEPING WILLOW

This time the ride was not a long one, for the distance from Buttercup to the willow tree was trifling, and Peter could have walked it in no time, as he informed Sir Butterfly when he tumbled off his back.

"This is a good time to tell me so," laughed the latter. "I was rather tired and I don't know but what I would have taken you at your word and let you walk if you had mentioned it before we started. But never mind now. Here we are, and here we shall probably stay for some time, unless you are in a hurry to go home. Are you?"

"Dear me, no," said the boy. "You don't know how much I am enjoying myself, and I want to see all that there is to be seen in your town. By the way, have you a town? You haven't said a word about where you live."

"Everywhere is my home, my son," answered Sir Butterfly, in a wistful manner. "I live in the gardens, in the meadows, in the air—in fact, anywhere I happen to be is home to me. We butterflies are all like that. That is why we have so many friends among the plants and insects. We have no enemies, unless it be the birds, and forgive me for saying it, some of the humans, who hunt us with queer bags that they try to throw over our heads. 'Nets' he means," said Peter to himself. "We are never lonely and therefore we are always happy."

"But where do you sleep?" asked the boy. "You must have some place to go when you want to go to bed."

"but we don't do much flying about until the sun comes out warm and strong, and then we set out to gather the honey and visit all our flower friends, who welcome us with open petals. For we bring them the news of the fields and meadows as well as pollen, you know."

"By the way, before I forget it, have you ever met cousin, Moth, boy?"

Next: "Scapegoat of the Family."

Third annual banquet of the original mail carriers of this city, which is scheduled for Tuesday evening, Oct. 22, in the Leslie Hotel. # SOUND LEADERSHIP

North, South, East and West, leading merchants are investing their capital in Durant dealerships. Men of their standing do not transform their business without a powerful incentive. The incentive lies partly in a keen desire to enjoy the competitive advantage of a 4-Forward-Speed Six under a thousand dollars, an advantage that is exclusively Durant. It lies, even more, in their recognition of the soundness of the new Durant executive leadership—factors equally important to the public, because they insure exceptional value in Durant products.

Post Offices Asked To Make Preparation For Christmas Rush

Postmasters Are Ordered To Submit Requisitions For Supplies At Once

By ARTHUR C. WIMLER
Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—
The postoffice department is already preparing for the Christmas rush and has gently "reminded" Pennsylvania postmasters of the importance of submitting advance requisitions to the department for an adequate supply of postage stamps, money-order blanks and other stamped paper needed to meet the public demand during the holiday season.

In order that these holiday stocks may be received in postoffices not later than December 10, postmasters are requested to submit their requisitions as immediately as is practicable, in accordance with the storage space available, but not to exceed the quantities that can be given proper protection, the department states. All requisitions for stocks needed for use before January 1, except for emergency supplies, should reach the department not later than November 20 and as far in advance of that date as possible. Requisitions for carload lots of plain envelopes and postal cards are expected to reach the department not later than October 15 in order that shipments may be made in mail storage cars that will be available until the holiday rush begins. The elimination of all unnecessary stamp stock shipment after December 10 to 26 is expected to be of distinct advantage to the railway mail service and will reduce the expense for transportation and serve to prevent congestion and delay in delivery.

The 1927 traffic on the Rhine river, Germany, was approximately 66,000,000 tons.

Thaw Was Sorry, Girl Reveals On Witness Stand

Harry K. Thaw Tried To Make Amends For Attack, Girl Tells Court

AGED MOTHER OF GIRL IN COURT

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—"I didn't mean to do it. I am very sorry and want to make amends."

These words were attributed to Harry K. Thaw, Pittsburgh's millionaire playboy, by Marcia Estardus, 26-year-old entertainer, who is suing Thaw for $100,000 charging assault.
Resuming the witness stand in the interests of her case today, the dark eyed plaintiff said that he called her on the telephone several days after the alleged New Year's day assault in his apartment and consoled her with the above words.

Miss Estardus, whose real name is Mae O'Neill, said Thaw, during the conversation which took place January 6, asked her not to tell anyone of the affair.

"Do you remember you left tickets for a benefit dance while we were at breakfast. Would you like me to attend?" Thaw said, according to Miss Estardus.

Mother Interested.
The dancer went on to say that Thaw had asked her how she was feeling and she told him she was quite sick.

"He then asked me not to mention the affair. I assured him I would not as I was too ashamed of the whole proceeding even to tell my mother," Miss Estardus testified.

The girl sniffled during most of her testimony and used her handkerchief freely. Her elderly mother, Mrs. Mary O'Neill, sat in the front row and leaned forward intently during the testimony.

Following this call, Miss Estardus said she was telephoned by Morgan Pendleton, Thaw's secretary at the time of the alleged attack.

"Pendleton told me Thaw did not mean to hurt me and was very, very sorry. He said that every man does those things."

Letter is Read.
"He asked me if I remembered the case when Thaw was accused of beating a boy in Philadelphia and then attempted suicide."

"He then asked me to write Thaw a letter, which I did."

"I am asking you to forget all that happened as I am not seeking publicity. I know that I will meet you from time to time at various places and want you to attend a benefit dance of mine," one portion of the letter said.

Miss Estardus was dressed in a black velvet dress, the same she wore during the trial yesterday with a chic black hat and a silver fox fur-piece.

Mrs. Mary O'Neill, Miss Estardus' mother, before the trial got under way today, said: "Last night my daughter was threatened over the telephone and advised not to appear on the stand again against Thaw."

Library References On Book Of Ruth

The beautiful story of Ruth, the long ago Bible heroine, is best read in one's own Bible, but realizing that some who will see the pageant presented this week at Senior High school will wish to read in connection with this event, the public library has prepared a short list of references which serve to explain the Bible text and which put the story into everyday language.

One imaginative and lovely account of the story may be found in Agnes Sligh Turnbull's Far above Rubies, called The Gerdon of Naomi. Ruth, a heroine from Moab, is the title of a chapter in Short studies of Old Testament Heroes by Robinson. The expositor's Bible gives a full and interesting account of this lovely woman of bygone days who was yet so modern in her thought and action.
The library will welcome anyone who wishes to read these accounts.

Britten Declares Army And Navy To Resume Grid Games

Illinois Congressman Says Service Teams To Play In Chicago December 6

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Rep.
Fred Britten (R) of Illinois, chairman of the House Naval committee, predicted today that the Army and Navy football teams will play a post-season game at Soldier's field, Chicago, on Dec. 6. Football relations between the two academies are now severed.

Britten made his prediction after discussing the project with President Hoover, but he declined to state upon what it was based other than "my own opinion."

A number of congressmen, and also officials of the War and Navy departments have been endeavoring to bring about resumption of the annual Army-Navy games.

who was in seclusion, has been

Coolidge, Smith And Rosenwald To Operate Big Fund

Philanthropic Fund Totalling Several Millions Will Be Established

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Calvin Coolidge, Alfred E. Smith and Julius Rosenwald have dined together once a month since last July, and at these meetings they have had under discussion the administration of a philanthropic fund.

This was admitted to International News Service this afternoon by Governor Smith.

The fund, according to reports in Wall street, runs into millions of dollars and is to be used for the public good.

"Yes, Mr. Coolidge, Mr. Rosenwald and myself have been getting together since last July," said Governor Smith. "We have discussed a philanthropic fund but I am not prepared to go into this at the present time."
"There will be an announcement concerning it from my office in the near future."

German Fascists Oppose Terms Of Reparation Plan

Hope To Obtain Four Million Signers To Petition Opposing Young Plan

HINDENBURG TO REMAIN NEUTRAL

By OTTO D. TOLISCHUS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
BERLIN, Oct. 16.—With German business and finance already crippled to a serious extent by the issue, the Fascist-initiated proceedings for a nationwide referendum in opposition to the Young plan for reparations payments got under way today.
Efforts are being made to obtain 4,000,000 signatures to petitions opposing terms of the Young plan, as well as demanding removal of the stigma of war guilt from the German constitution.

The proceedings in connection with the referendum threaten to precipitate one of the most serious domestic battles in Germany since the hectic inflation days, and have already driven prices on the Berlin Stock Exchange down to the lowest point in years.

Hindenburg Neutral
President Von Hindenburg, whose opinion on the issue was anxiously awaited, has indicated he will take a neutral stand.

The President's neutral attitude is considered a severe blow to advocates to the Young Plan, who interpreted his official statement of gratitude to the German League of Nations delegation for their participation in the funeral of the late foreign minister, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, as virtual sanction of their activities in behalf of the Young plan.

All members of the German cabinet on the other hand have been emphatic in their opposition to the referendum.

Mission Co-operates With City Police

Recently the question was asked as to how the City Rescue Mission was co-operating with the police department of the city. The following letter is self-explanatory:

Fred L. Rentz,

New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:

I wish to state that Mr. B. J. Watkins, Superintendent of the City Rescue Mission, has worked with the Police Department and treated us fairly during the past year.

Yours very truly,
Wm. H. Gillispie,
Mayor.

Stocks Carried Downward Today

Industrial And Utility Stocks
Take 5 To 10 Point
Losses In Market
Today

By W. S. COUSINS International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—High-priced industrial and utility stocks were carried down from 5 to 10 points in a furious outpouring of speculative selling on the big board today. General nervousness over money supplies, together with discouraging comments on stock prices in relation to corporation earnings by prominent economists gave the hours another opportunity to pound the market in their "campaign" for lower prices. Further retrenchment of steel manufacturing also helped the campaign along.

Public utility stocks tumbled without much sign of support in the early afternoon General Electric lost about 11 points at 350 1-4. American and Foreign Power was down 10 points at 150 1/2; Consolidated Gas down 6 at 145 1/2. Westinghouse down 7 1/2 at 225 1-4.

United States Steel was a storm center in the early trading with a drop of 4 1/2 points to 218 5-8. Western Union lost 8 1/2 points at 249. Industrial Alcohol was down 7 at 223-1-4; Eastman Kodak down 4 3-4;
American Tobacco down 6 and Atchafalya railroad down 6 1/2.

Lifting of selling pressure in the fourth hour permitted sharp recov-eries in some sections of the list.

As a group the oil stocks made a good showing today, following the announcement of a 48,900-barrel daily decline in crude oil production this week. This is the first effect of the American Petroleum Institute's campaign for crude oil conservation.

Standard Oil of New Jersey sold at 82 up 1 3-4.

universities in the United States, 17

Pennsylvania Air Requirements Are Highest In Union

State Is One Of Six Which Requires Licenses For All Aircraft And Fliers

MANY STATES HAVE REGULATORY LAWS

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—Pennsylvania is one of the six states in the union that require state licenses for all aircraft and airmen in the state, according to a survey made public today by Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics.

In addition to the Keystone state, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Arkansas, Florida and Kansas also require state licenses. Twenty states require federal licenses for all aircraft and airmen; seven states require federal licenses for all aircraft and airmen engaged in commercial flying; six states require either state or federal licenses, and nine states as yet require no licenses whatever, the survey reveals.

The aeronautics division is preparing for publication of a draft of state aeronautical legislation and a compilation of state laws, with abstracts and verbatim copies of all regulatory state laws pertaining to aeronautics, and in addition, abstracts of the regulatory portion of the air commerce act of 1926, as well as suggested drafts of state legislation and a section discussing the imperative need for uniform state air laws.

Grove City Girl Weds Cleveland Man

Ceremony Performed In Home Of Bride's Parents; Other News Of Borough

GROVE CITY, Oct. 16.—Of interest to many friends in Grove City is the announcement of the marriage of Rebekah McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McKay of West Main street, Grove City, to Harvey F. Lorenzo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lorenzo of Cleveland Heights, Cleveland, O.

The ceremony was solemnized at high noon Saturday in the McKay home in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends. Dr. W. E. Purvis of the Grove City college faculty read the nuptial vows before the fireplace in the living room which was beautifully banked with ferns and yellow chrysanthemums with a base of autumn leaves.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to 23. Table appointments were carried out in a scheme of blue and white. Seated at the bridal table were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McKay, Dr. W. E. Purvis and the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo left Saturday afternoon for a motor trip through New York state and upon their return will reside in their newly furnished apartment in Cleveland Heights.

LEAVES FOR NEW YORK

Boy, Playing In Street, Injured

Runs into Side Of Passing Automobile While Playing Football

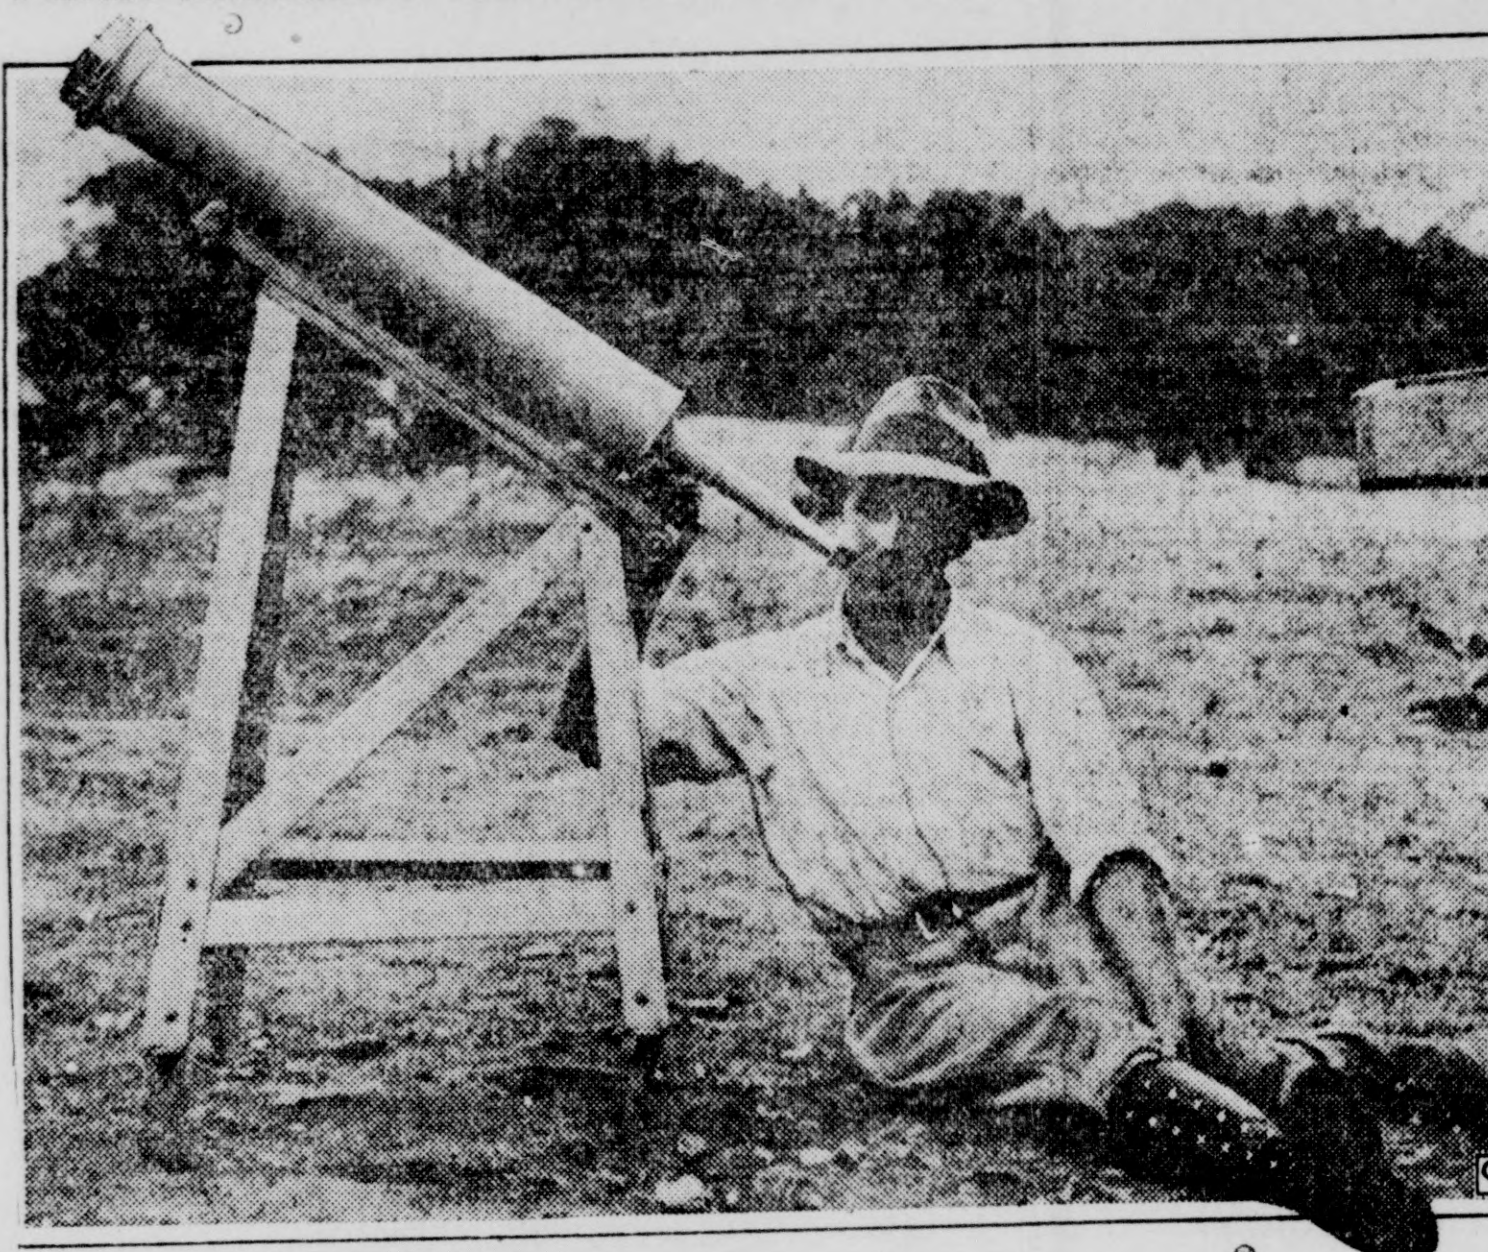

Frank Taylor of 498 Neshannock avenue, reported to the police that he was driving his machine east on Lathrop street, near Huron avenue, as a number of boys were engaged in playing football in the street.

One of the boys, Raymond Korsch of 1209 Randolph street, while playing, ran into the side of Mr. Taylor's machine. Mr. Taylor took the boy to the office of a physician, where a couple of scalp wounds were attended to, after which he took the boy home. The boy was not seriously injured.

Jesse M. Rice of 126 Richelieu avenue, reported that his machine was in a collision with that of W. J. Douglas, 935 Rose avenue at Cumberland avenue and Crawford avenue. Some damage was done.

PLAN LARGEST OBSERVATORY FOR CALIFORNIA PEAK

Within a few months, what is said to be the greatest astronomical observatory in the world will be constructed on a southern California mountain, within a 200-mile radius of Pasadena. More than $20,000,000 will be expended to complete and equip the observatory by the Carnegie Institute. Nightly, Major P. H. McLaughlin, in charge, makes observations of the solar system to determine how many nights in the year are clear enough to study the heavens. Construction of a 200-inch reflector is under way. San Bernardino, Big Bear and Baldy Peaks and Mt. Volcan have been scenes of trial observations and the observatory probably will be constructed at one of these places. Above, Major McLaughlin is looking through the telescope he is using to make his observations.

Bo Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—"Fussy"—the feline pride of the Metropolitan Opera House—has probably the only cat in the world with a press agent.

A life insurance policy, a salary of $100 a week and a bank account. He attends strictly to his work, keeping the old Song Barn free of rodents, and although he's a temperamental little beast, he reserves all such manifestations until after office hours, when he strolls at leisure in the alley and invites his soul.

Some cats who had rubbed such eminent ankles as those of Caruso, Scotti, Schumann-Heink, Alda and the rest, might have been tempted to go in for a little "opera" of their own on the back fence. But not "Fussy." He knows his highlights and his limitations. Therein lies his value.

A RIDE FOR BEE

Here's news for you: Beatrice Lillie, musical comedy star, says she really belongs to the Gay Nineties. "The first snow," she declares, "will find me, when I am in New York, driving through Central Park in an old-fashioned 'low-neck' sleigh, if there is one to be found."

I know where there's one such vehicle stored. It's owned by "Coffee Ring" Dwyer, an old-line hackman. And when Beatrice is ready, if she gets her sleigh ride. But her press agent will have to stay behind. "Coffee Ring" hates press agents. It's one of his peculiarities.

ALMOST—BUT NOT QUITE

Andy Tombes, comedian in "The Street Singer," came so near being a Shakespearean actor that sometimes when he wakes up at night and thinks of it he nearly goes mad. In his early days he tramped with Charles B. Hanford's Shakespearean repertoire company. At the close of one season Hanford asked him to sign up for the following year and at the same time came an invitation to join Cafferty's Minstrels as end man. Another wrestled prayerfully with his problem and finally pointed up with the black-face gang.

TEX IN A SHOW

"Tex" Gulian has gone starring again. She will be featured in "Broadway Nights," with Dr. Rockwell. The out-of-town's gain will be New York's loss.

We feel toward "Tex," in New York, the way the old lady felt about her seven married children.

"I misses 'em," she said, "an' I wants 'em; but I misses 'em more than I wants 'em."

GLORIA SINGS

Gloria Swanson probably never heard the sage advice, "Think twice before you speak and three times before you sing." She announces she's going on the air, shortly, with a song called "Love," with lyrics by Elsie Janis. Gloria would have us believe she's scared to death; but personally I don't believe it. I don't think the Swanson person was ever scared in her life. If she were really the scary kind she'd have quit the pictures way back in the early days when Charlie Chaplin fired her out of the cast. He said she was "rotten."

Charles, it is said, has since revamped his opinion and has now come to realize what glorious Gloria knew all the time.

CONFLICT

With Alfred E. Smith's autobiography, "Up to Now," just out, comes word from London of the publication of Martin Shaw's entertaining little autobiographical work, "Up to Now," by the Oxford University Press.

RELIGION

One of the most interesting clergymen in New York is Father Leonard, rector of St. Malachy's in 49th street, off Broadway, known as the actors' chapel. Father Leonard, who has ministered to the spiritual welfare of New York showfolk for many years, is held by them in high esteem. It has become the vogue for actors to resort to the quiet of the chapel to perfect themselves in their parts. What the casual visitor there might justifiably mistake for fervent lip devotion is usually memory work and not prayer.

KONJOLA CALLED "BEST MEDICINE" BY MAN OF 72

Freed Of Stomach Trouble After Long And Fruitless Search For Relief.

MR. ANDREW LARGE

"Although I am seventy-two years old, my age made no difference to Konjola, for it worked wonders for me," said Mr. Andrew Large, Pomeroy, Penna. "Day after day I sought a medicine that would relieve me of stomach trouble, but always my search was in vain. Constantly I was in distress from indigestion and constipation. Food failed to digest as it should."

"Konjola, the best medicine in the world, proved to be just what I needed. Day by day the improvement became more noticeable. My stomach now functions just as Nature intended. I eat whatever I wish without the slightest distress. I am stronger, have more energy and pep. What a medicine Konjola is and what a boon it is to suffering humanity."

Konjola is sold in New Castle at Love & McGowan drug store, and by all the best druggists at all towns throughout this entire section.

EXCELLENCE that is long-lived

Any comparison of the Dodge Six with other cars at its price reveals this truth: the Dodge Six is built to perform more capably—to serve more dependably—to last longer. Body construction is stauncher. Its motor has greater piston displacement—finer pistons—more piston rings—more crankshaft bearings. It has a deeper frame with more cross members—longer springs—better brakes—bigger tires. In every detail that assures finer performance, safety, dependability and long-lived excellence, the Dodge Six excels.

Another bad bend in the Harlansburg road is on its way to oblivion and in its place will be a gradual turn, over a bridge wide enough for two cars to pass in safety. The bend is located a couple miles beyond the village of Harlansburg and crosses a narrow bridge just in the middle of the turn.

Roamed out that way yesterday afternoon and found that work is progressing rapidly. Already a large part of the fill necessary to the work is done, the foundations for the bridge are started, and apparently the contractors are going to get as much of the preliminary work as possible done this fall.

That bridge has always been a tricky one. On wet days with traffic heavy a motorist came through the bend with his heart parked on his back teeth.

There is one factory that never closes down. The market for its product seems to be one that never gets glutted, and the factory keeps working night and day. The latest rumor to be turned out of the factory is the cost of the lights at Franklin Field. According to the production manager of the rumor factory the cost varies. One says it costs only $30.00 per night to use the flood lights, another says the cost is $179.00, while one of the more enthusiastic workers in the factory has the rate put at $300.00 per night.

It seems a shame to be a party to the work of wrecking craftsmanship, for there is a certain craftsmanship about the workers in the rumor factory. Truth, however, simply destroys rumor, and if you have heard the rumors you are entitled to the truth of the matter.

Assuming that the flood lights at the stadium are on for three hours on evenings they are operated, the total cost for current is $10.77. This means lights from seven until ten o'clock in the evening. They could burn those

Murderer Breaks Down In Cell At Chicago, Illinois

John Preston Blames Moonshine And Poisons For His Murderous Act

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—John Preston, "model husband" and father of a 7-year-old child Tuesday wept in a cell at Wheaton, Chicago suburb, and blamed moonshine liquor infused with volatile poisons for his confessed act of attacking, mutilating and murdering pretty Agnes Johnson, who went out on a "blind date," with him and a girl friend.

Preston confessed he attacked the girl on a lonely road in his automobile while his mind was drugged with moonshine and after her friend, Miss Matilda Murphy, had fled screaming. Preston begged police to ask for only life imprisonment as his punishment instead of death in the electric chair.

MAY COMPLETE CLARK'S MILLS ROAD, 2 WEEKS

GREENVILLE, Pa., Oct. 16.—With but about 3,000 feet of concrete to be poured on the Clark's Mills-Sandy Lake road, two weeks of fair weather is expected to bring the newest hard road link in northern Mercer county to completion.

The road has been opened from Carpenter's Corners to Sandy Lake, and can now be travelled by motorists following the old route east through Clark's Mills to Carpenter's Corners, a distance of less than a mile. The remainder was opened to the next intersection last Monday.

By use of the new piece of concrete the detour about a mile west of Clark's Mills is no longer necessary. With fair weather the small section of dirt and east of Clark's Mills will remain in condition for motor travel.

Electrolytic Decomposition!

NOTHING terrible about "electrolytic decomposition." It simply means the "evaporation" of water from your automobile battery. It's a natural process that must take place in any healthy battery.

But—and here's the point—unless the water lost in the air is replaced every ten days or two weeks, only part of the full power of the battery is available. Regular visits to our service station for water, and cleaning and tightening of the terminals, will keep it in a healthy condition.

We are proud of our reputation as battery experts—that's why we sell the dependable and long-lived Exide, made by The Electric Storage Battery Co., the world's largest manufacturers of storage batteries for every purpose.

New First Church Embodies Features Of Modern Design

Construction At Glenmore Boulevard Site Has Been Quite Rapid

MAY BE COMPLETED EARLY NEXT YEAR

Few other churches in New Castle embody some of the architectural features of the new First United Presbyterian church, being erected on the property of the congregation at the corner of Glenmore boulevard and Albert street. The church edifice itself is one of the most handsome improvements being made in the city at the present time, and if construction work continues at the rapid pace it has been, there is every indication that occupancy can be made shortly after the beginning of the new year.

The general scheme of the building is that of an ell structure with the main auditorium as a separate and distinct unit occupying a space approximately 52x110 feet. The main entrance to the auditorium is from Glenmore boulevard into a large vestibule or narthex which communicates with the social room beneath by means of two stairways and by a continuation of these stairways up to the balcony. The auditorium itself is what is known as a side aisle design, the side aisles being separated from the main part of the auditorium by means of Gothic arches over which is a series of clear-story windows on each side of the auditorium and extending the full length of it. This arrangement not only accents the architectural proportion of the interior, but insures a uniform distribution of light. Over the pulpit and choir loft in the front of the church is a large Gothic window and provision has been made for the installation of a very beautiful design in stained glass. There is also a similar window over the front entrance, throwing a flood of light down over the rear balcony. Both of these windows, as well as the clear-story and aisle windows, are trimmed both inside and out with divisions of Indiana limestone tracing the glass being set directly in the stone.

The Sabbath school wing extends at right angles to the main church and comes out towards Albert street and is a three-story structure, devoted entirely to Sabbath school work with all of the latest divisions and equipment for the installation and most modern handling of departmental Sabbath school work. While this department is connected by means of an adequate entrance from a common corridor and vestibule, the auditorium is not marred by the usual installation of sliding doors connecting the two unrelated departments of church work.

The shape of the lot is such that the architects were enabled to plan as that all of the basement could be used for active church work of various kinds and to be as well lighted as any other part of the upper portion of the building. The whole space under the auditorium is devoted to social purposes, having a large dining room equipped with adequate stage, dressing rooms, etc., so that the room may be used for entertainments and all forms of social activities as well as serving for an ideal dining room, the rear part of this space being occupied by a most modern kitchen.

Structurally the building is of the highest quality, the exterior being built of Neshannock sandstone, trimmed with Indiana limestone, and the interior of the building throughout being of fireproof construction. All flooring is of composition, mastic or other form of latest type flooring. No wood flooring is used in any part of the building.

The roofing on the exterior is of variegated tiling similar to that used in the Robert Audley Browne Memorial dormitory at Westminster College. The building committee is composed of Roy Jamison, M. Carlton Smith, Thomas H. Hartman, Oliver Hazen and J. Lee McFate, chairman of the committee.

The contractor for the erection and completion of the building is J. Clyde Giffillan. Architects who have designed the building and prepared all plans and specifications are W. G. Eckles Company. The building is now being plastered and present progress on the construction would indicate that it should be ready for occupancy shortly after the first of the year.

Junior High Band May Get Uniforms

Ask For Public Donations In Effort To Outfit Student Organization

Some 54 students, representing each of the three grades at the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School, comprise the school's band this year. An attempt is now being made to raise sufficient funds so that the entire organization might be attired in band uniforms.

On different occasions the local junior high musicians have been asked to play at school and outside affairs and each time the invitation has been gladly accepted. It is the belief, however, that the organization would present a more striking appearance were every member donned in uniform.

Through a slight misunderstanding the Ben Franklin band did not play at the New Castle-Westinghouse game last Saturday although it was scheduled to appear. The band will play at numerous high school games in the future, it is said.

Miss Eva Coulter is the director of the organization as well as in charge of all instrumental music study in the school. Public donations will be gladly received from individuals who care to make a contribution in the hope that enough funds might be secured to outfit the organization.

glowing reports have been received from men and women of this section who tell how this medicine gave them prompt and lasting relief from such ailments as stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders. The ten wonderful natural ingredients of Ten Herbs cleanse and tone up the whole human system, and relieve rheumatism, neuritis, and nervousness. Get a bottle of Ten Herbs today at Eckerd's of New Castle Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where this famous preparation is being introduced.

"Ten Herbs has been a great help to me by relieving my stomach, liver, and kidney trouble, from which I had suffered for years," was the recent statement of Mrs. Mary T. Golec, 305 Mulberry Street, Butler, Pa. "It has also been beneficial to my two young daughters. No one knows how I suffered before taking Ten Herbs. Even a bite of bread would cause me to feel as if there were a lump about the size of an egg pressing against my side, and this gave me great distress. Food would arise in my throat. Gas bloated me and I had a burning sensation in my stomach. There were sharp pains across my back, and I had to take pills almost every night on account of constipation. I really felt so bad I could hardly keep going."

"After reading in the paper what Ten Herbs had done for others, I felt improved after using only one bottle. My stomach was benefited so much that I could enjoy my meals without having any distress afterwards. Then the pains in my back and side were relieved, and my liver became normal. I soon felt one hundred per cent. better in every way. Even neighbors noticed that I was looking a great deal better. I am pleased to endorse Ten Herbs to others."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and sold at all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Broadway Entertainer Seeks $100,000 From Playboy Harry Thaw

Half Sobbing Marcia Estardus Tells How Thaw Attacked Her

First Trial Ended In Disagreement; Thaw Gets Trial Reports Over Telephone

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Many years ago Harry K. Thaw, heir to millions, entered a courtroom and his name rang around the world as the slayer of Stanford White.

Today, the Pittsburgh millionaire to whom a generous portion of the fortune of his late mother has passed, was expected once again to take the witness stand, this time to deny the charges of Marcia Estardus, Broadway entertainer.

Miss Estardus, whose real name is May O'Neil, is suing for $100,000 alleging that she was beaten and bitten by him in his apartment on New Year's day, 1927. The first trial of the action resulted in a jury disagreement.

Girl Tells Details

Thaw, whose hair is now as white as the snow of winter, sat in a nearby office and listened to telephone reports from counsel while his accuser told her story from the witness chair in supreme court.

Dressed in a black hat, the plaintiff told the jury that Thaw beat her with a hairbrush and hit her. She had gone to the Pittsburgh millionaire's apartment here with Morgan Pendleton, at that time Thaw's secretary, after a gay New Year's eve party in Washington Square.

There was champagne and eggs for breakfast and Thaw sat at her right in the dining room. "You are very pretty. You ought to go big on the stage or in the movies," Miss Estardus testified that Thaw said to her. "Then he asked me to walk about the room. I did and he watched me."

"Next, he asked me to come down the hallway to see a picture that he said looked like me. I went there and he stood beside me commenting on the picture."

Says Thaw Bit Her

"I saw that he held a hairbrush with a long handle in his hand. I tried to run. I rushed into the bedroom and then he came at me."

The witness dabbed her eyes with a handkerchief and sniffled.

"He tore my dress," she continued. "He struck me, tore my hair and bit me. I picked up everything I could to throw at him. I screamed."

"His eyes were popping out. I ran to the window. He showed a 'dead' jump and finally he unlocked the door."

Miss Estardus showed the jury a scar. Then the red velvet dress with fringes which the plaintiff wore to the New Year's eve party was exhibited. It was torn and the fringes were tattered.

Missionary Workers Stress Necessity Of Grasping Opportunities For World Peace

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 15.—Following a mass meeting last night in which missionary workers stressed the necessity of grasping opportunities offered in helping to bring about world peace, 250 delegates to the 11th annual synod of the province of Washington of the Episcopal church settled down to business sessions here today.

The business sessions were featured by a report of the president, the Right Rev. William L. Gravatt, bishop of West Virginia, who reminded the delegates that the revised book of common prayer will be used in Episcopal congregations beginning December 1 next.

The Rev. Thomas J. Bingham of Pittsburgh was re-elected secretary of the synod. Other elections were to follow today.

Bad Stomach Cause of Bad Skin

You can't expect to have a good clear fresh-looking complexion if your stomach is weak and disordered.

Undigested food sends poisons through your whole body, pimples appear in your face, skin grows sallow and muddy and loses its color. Your tongue becomes coated, breath most unpleasant. But these troubles will end quickly and skin clear up if you will start today taking that simple herbal compound known to druggists as Tanlac.

Tanlac contains nothing but herbs, barks and roots which have a cleansing, healing effect on a poor upset stomach. Just a teaspoonful before each meal stimulates the digestion naturally so that you can eat what you want without fear of distress. And when your stomach is in good shape again see how much keener your appetite is—watch how quickly skin begins to grow free of disfiguring eruptions. The cost of Tanlac is less than 2¢ a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

How often you've noticed the smiling faces of our entire staff—and how often have their pleasing dispositions made an impression on you!

To be sure, we're all human—things just don't go right for all of us all of the time—but no member of our staff, from the highest executive right down the line, is ever too busy to extend those little courtesies that make life so worthwhile, after all. THAT'S the Strouss-Hirshberg spirit!

—No matter how many colors a woman admits to her wardrobe, she includes (if truly smart) at least one complete outfit in black. And the wise feminine person assures the correctness of her ensemble by choosing coat, frock and accessories at Strouss-Hirshberg's.

Motor Manufacturers Demand Steel Reaches

ACTIVICAL

(Inter News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—Reduction in the steel motor car manufacturers has reached the lowest point in months, being so drastic that requirements of the railroads failed to offset the slack in the Iron Age will say tomorrow weekly review of the iron and steel industry.

"A fall in the price of steel, which has been the cause of the steel industry's trouble, has caused wider use of the price situation, with extreme cases of $2 and $2.50 below market levels that prevail days ago."

Activity Scale
The big problem facing the industry, the point out, is to "adjust it a curtailed, though by no means, scale of activity." Most steel mills have become increasingly tied with the present lull in iron demands and no estimatable period of the duration (present slack period) caused by the manufacturers' plan to bring out new models.

Steel production has given further ground," Iron Age will say. "The steel corporation's average is down to 80 per cent. The rate for the industry in the Chicago district is estimated at 85 per cent, while at Pittsburgh it does not exceed 80 per cent. The Youngstown average is 75 per cent and the Wheeling district plants are running at 65 to 70 per cent of capacity."

Fabricated structural steel lettings for the week were light while sheet mill operations have declined to 75 per cent of capacity. Strip prices have been fairly steady and heavy melting scrap declined 50 cents a ton at Philadelphia and 25 cents at Chicago.

"Both Iron Age composite prices are unchanged, finished steel at 2.369 a pound and pig iron at $18.29 a gross ton." The magazine concludes.

Many Openings In United States Army*Army Schools Provide Excellent Opportunity For Young Men

According to Corporal J. W. Thompson, officer in charge of the army recruiting station in the city building stated today that contrary to reports that seem to be circulating here, there are many opportunities in the United States army at the present time for the young man who is ambitious, wants to learn a trade, see the world and also be of service to his country.

Almost every army school which are available to young and interested recruits is open at the present time and now is an excellent time according to Corporal Thompson for the young man seeking to make the most of such a chance to get into the army.

Openings are available in almost every state, in the Hawaiian Islands, Panama Canal Zone, Philippine Islands and China. This is one of the few times when so many excellent opportunities for experience and an education are available in army circles at most any point that a young man might want to go.

For further information, those interested should get in touch with Corporal Thompson at the city building.

Yale Professor Says Market To Go Away Higher*Yale Economist Inclined To Be "Bullish" In Regard To Stock Market

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Professor Irving Fisher, noted Yale economist, today stands committed to the "bullish" side of the stock market.

"A higher market," is his forecast, as made in a speech here last night. Thus Prof. Fisher took issue with the prediction made three weeks ago by Roger W. Babson, economist, that there would be an eighty-point drop in stock prices.

Prof. Fisher said he expects to see the stock market a good deal higher than it is today within a few months. Stock prices, he declared, have reached "what looks like a permanently high plateau."

The rise of the market in the past two years was "justified" by conditions, he said.

Ivorites Plan For Meeting Saturday*Other News Notes Of Interest To Welsh People Of City

(By WM. A. JOHNS)
Brython

Star of Wales Lodge, No. 60, True Ivorites of America, will meet at the Emmanuel Baptist church, next Saturday evening, October 19 at 7:30 o'clock, when matters pertaining to the future success of the lodge will be brought forward, for the consideration of the members present.

The little children who took part in the Rally Day exercise, last Sunday morning at the Emmanuel Baptist church, met last Monday evening, with their teachers, Mrs. Thomas Lloyd of Electric street, and Mrs. William Blueford of East Washington street, in the Sunday school of the church, for a social time. A nice party was enjoyed. Mrs. Lloyd presented one of the scholars, little Miss Stevens, with a beautiful gift, on her departure with her parents, to make her future home in California.

Speeches and songs were given by the little ones present, and all had an evening of enjoyment.

Mrs. John Evans and daughter, Nettie of Mill street, have returned home from a trip to Cleveland and Warren, O. They reported finding the family of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Badger in good health and happiness, in Cleveland.

David J. Owens, who is making his home with Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, Mill street, at the present time, received a letter this week from his wife and daughter, who are spending their vacation at Sketty Swane, South Wales. The letter stated that business is still rather slow and a large amount of workmen are out of work but the English government is taking care of them.

Daniel Williams, Sheridan avenue, and William A. Johns, South Mercer street, are ready to thank the public for responding so heartily and so liberally to their appeal for help to get a furnace for the Emmanuel Baptist church. Two of the ladies of the church, Mrs. John Evans and Mrs. Thomas Lloyd went on a collection mission last week, up town, and came back loaded with money. The church, last Sunday evening, passed a resolution instructing the secretary of the church, John Evans, to send a letter to each of these kindly contributors, thanking them for their generosity to the Emmanuel church.

Auto Accident On Jefferson St.*Al Morris Taken To Jameson Memorial Hospital After Crash

Al Morris, New Castle R. D. No. 5, was thrown from his machine and injured, about 12-15 o'clock this morning, when his car was struck on the left hand side by the car of J. A. Logan, 210 East North street.

The accident occurred at North Jefferson street and Falls street. The Morris car was enroute north on North Jefferson street and the Logan car was enroute south on Jefferson street.

The Logan car turned to the left into Falls street just as the Morris car reached Falls street, with the result that the Logan car crashed into the left side of the Morris car. Mr. Morris was thrown from the machine to the street and was apparently seriously injured. Mr. Logan helped pick him up and place him in the car of Henry J. Hamilton, who took him to the Jameson Memorial hospital. Morris was unconscious at this time.

According to Logan, he then left the scene, in his car, which was somewhat damaged. The report made by a companion of Morris was to the effect that Logan did not remain on the scene and could not be located for some time.

At the Jameson Memorial hospital this afternoon, it was stated that Mr. Morris had been able to leave, his injuries apparently not being of a serious nature. The Morris car was badly wrecked.

Doheny Favored; Told On Stand In Fall Trial*Everybody In Interior Department In 1922 Tried To Favor E. L. Doheny*H. FOSTER BAIN IS BELIGERENT

By GEORGE E. DUENO,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Everybody around the Department of Interior in 1922 wanted to "make things easy" for E. L. Doheny, the California oil magnate, and didn't want him "to get into trouble," according to a letter produced today by the prosecution in the bribery trial of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall.

The letter was written to Fall by H. Foster Bain, former director of the Bureau of Mines, a defense witness undergoing cross examination and had to do with the legality of leasing the Elk Hills Naval oil reserve to Doheny. Fall is charged with having accepted a $100,000 bribe for the lease.

Letter Is Revealed
Urging that the attorney general be asked for an opinion as to legality, Bain wrote Fall:

"None of us want Mr. Doheny to get into trouble and we want to do everything we can to make things easy for him."

Bain proved rather a defiant witness under cross examination. Confronted at one stage with his testimony three years ago in the Fall-Doheny conspiracy case, and asked whether he had said it, the witness replied:

"It's a matter of record, but I would like to change it from my recollection this morning."

Connecticut Yankee Has Real Appeal*Big Production Is Coming To The Cathedral On Thursday Night

Back in the halcyon days of youth, the works of Mark Twain were very real to most of us. Tom Sawyer, Huckleberry Finn, and their companions walked across the written page not as characters in fiction but as real flesh and blood individuals.

One of the books that captivated you, no doubt, was "The Connecticut Yankee," who you will recall paid a visit to the Court of King Arthur.

Lyle D. Andrews, and adapted by Fields, Rodgers and Hart.
"The Connecticut Yankee" plays the Cathedral on Thursday evening, October 17, and should attract many. There is but one company playing "The Connecticut Yankee" and this is the one playing here Thursday evening. The same company played Pittsburgh all of last week. Playing the Vanderbilt Theatre, New York last season this show was one of the successes of the season.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Former Governor "Al" Smith has discarded the famous brown derby as a political campaign habiliament.

Wearing a smart light tan fedore, "Al" made his first speech in the mayoralty campaign last night. He spoke in behalf of Mayor James J. Walker, who is seeking re-election.

The shedding of the "iron hat" occasioned some comment by "Al's" old friends. But when he didn't light a single cigar during the whole evening they were quite surprised.

Otherwise "Al" was his same old self. Humorous, sarcastic and a great "crowd pleaser." As in days of yore he "quoted the record."

Orders For Christmas Trees Already Placed

Dealer Here Declares Use Of Trees On Lawns Increases Demand

ONE CARLOAD WAS ORDERED LAST MAY

New Castle will not be minus Christmas trees when December 25 comes around.

Not in the least if the orders for such placed by local wholesale houses can be taken as a criterion. Local establishments have long since placed their "needs" in the hands of the men who sell them and already Northern Vermont and Canada are making ready for the annual tree-cutting season.

Inquiry yesterday revealed that many firms here despatched their orders as early as last May. One company dealing in Christmas trees and holiday wreaths placed part of their order that month and an additional one some time ago.

According to the proprietor they have three carloads ordered, one to be shipped here from Canada while the other two will probably bring Vermont trees. "Orders are placed early," the manager said, "so that the first cut may be had, or the first trees that are cut in a certain area. They're the best."

"The universal practice of placing Christmas trees outside has increased the demand for larger trees," the manager continued. "Time was when we ordered the smaller trees, but most everyone wants a large one now." Indications are that more will place their trees outside this season.

While the order for three carloads in which will be from five to six hundred bundles each containing two, three, four, five and six trees depending on the size was made long ago, the trees themselves will not be cut until near to the Christmas season. The local company expects one carload on December 10 and another five days later.

Like the trees, most every firm has ordered most of its holly wreaths, ground pine and what other seasonal decorations that are popular long before the Fourth of July preceding that particular Christmas is past.

Doctor Held For Destroying Evidence

SHARON, Pa., Oct. 16.—County Detective S. R. Leyshock today appeared before Alderman H. E. Phipps and made an information against Dr. H. E. Massy, local physician, charging him with destroying evidence taken in the raid on the Sharon Country Club last Wednesday night. He has been ordered to appear for arraignment at his convenience. The doctor was one of 16 men arraigned before Alderman Phipps last Thursday night on charges of possessing liquor and conspiring to violate the prohibition laws. He was discharged with 12 others taken in the raid, against whom the state failed to make a case. State Trooper Paul Lango, however, testified that the doctor had broken a bottle of liquor seized as evidence which Lango was carrying in his coat pocket.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY

To Be Moderate Is Not to Gorge or to Undereat

A noted food authority states that attacks on candy lack a background of scientific insight. He reminds us that in addition to sugar, the best candies and confections of the present day contain also many other foods. He enumerates nuts, milk, cream, butter, gelatine, chocolate, and fruits, as being used along with sugar in delicious, modern candies, and he says that good candy as a dessert may become a whole-some part of a meal. Who, he asks, would deprive the world of one of its most delicious desserts?

Science and common sense are restoring sanity to the nation today. Don't gorge. Don't undereat. Prepare a great variety of all healthful foods. Flavor these so that they will be delightful to the taste. Those are some of the present-day precepts that will guide us to a better diet.

If a dash of sugar will encourage your family to eat cereals, fresh, canned and stewed fruits, and milk desserts, then—in the name of health—use a dash of sugar. Try a dash of sugar when cooking vegetables in a small amount of water, and you will be surprised at how much fresher, more colorful and more delicious the vegetables are. A little sugar sprinkled here and there throughout the meal will encourage children and adults to eat the varied diet that is so necessary to health. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

Youth And Girl In Serious Condition, From Poison Pact

(International News Service)
NORWALK, Conn., Oct. 16.—A youth and a high school girl were in critical condition in Norwalk hospital Tuesday as a result of drinking poison together.
David Ferris, 20, the youth according to authorities said he had persuaded Florence Lockwood, 15, a high school student, to drink iodine while taking an automobile ride with him. He said he then drank considerable of the poison himself.
Conscience stricken after both had drunk the poison, Ferris drove Florence to the hospital where first aid measures were taken.
Hospital authorities said Miss Lockwood would recover but expressed fear for Ferris' life.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Co-Operation Of Parents Needed To Aid Willie Break Bad Habit

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
Willie is eight. His mother says he still wets the bed. She is much disturbed about it; so is Willie. He suffers most. He is so ashamed he doesn't know what to do. His father knows about it; his big sister, his little brother, his uncle, aunt and grandmother, too. Even some of the neighbors know of it, and they have told it to their children, who have spread the news at school. Suppose you or I were in Willie's place!

First of all, have a family meeting when Willie is not there. After every one has been led to realize what agonies the boy has borne, make a solemn covenant that no one, from now on, will ever say a word to Willie about the matter.

Then take the relatives and neighbors, who have known about Willie's bed wetting, into the covenant, pledging solemnly to one another to try to help the boy by never mentioning his trouble. They, in turn, are going to enlist the co-operation of Willie's comrades. All are going to see that the lad feels as comfortable and happy as they can make him, that he can express himself and win approval.

Assure Willie you and father never again are going to scold him, nor shame, nor ridicule him, and that you are sorry for any suffering you have already caused him. Tell him that lots of other children of his age have had such trouble, too, and that some very respectable adults have occasional accidents. Make him feel that you want to help him and that if he has any more bad luck at night he needs to have no worries.

Provide him with a rubber sheet. Urge him not to play too hard, nor to get too tired, nor too much excited during the day.

Tell him that you are going to call him up once or several times at night, so that he may be able to sleep dry. By experimenting you will find out how often it will be necessary to get him up. Use a clock. As soon as you work out time intervals which will prove successful, gradually make them longer. If the alarm will awaken him, let him call himself up. Make the first dry night a victory; celebrate it with him on the following day, but be sure to ignore all failures as of no consequence. Help him look forward to successes in the future. Encourage him to go to bed with a hopeful, happy attitude.

Have him tie a spool against his back so he will not lie upon it, since to lie upon the back makes the bladder more ready, as a rule, to relieve itself. See that he urinates on going to bed. Persuade him to get along without much cover, made of light materials, avoiding heavy blankets. He will get best results if he has a hard bed, such as a canvas army cot.

His task will be made easier if he avoids liquids late in the day; but unless his is a very difficult case, it may be better not to suggest cutting down on liquids, since it is very desirable that we all drink an ample amount of water.

In the meanwhile, have your physician look him over, giving him a very thorough examination, including his tonsils, and advising you about his foods.

Tomorrow: On Kissing the Baby.

Another great handicap to education is the fact that Lindbergh didn't get high marks in school.

News Reporter Hears Queer Fish Stories

Queer species of tropical fish have interested several local men for some time. The habits of the fish are extremely interesting, the writer finds.

Arthur Rees, of East Washington street, has raised about one hundred tropical fish of the Guppy species. The fish, when full grown, are about one half inch long. They seem to be all eyes, as their eyes are quite large and protruding, in proportion to the rest of their body. These fish multiply very rapidly, according to Mr. Rees. Eight or nine months ago, Mr. Rees had one pair of the peculiar

The father fish is the manly protector of the young ones, according to Mr. Marso. He patrols, back and forth, beneath the nest, and if one of the little ones wanders away from the nest too soon, the father takes it into his mouth and shoots it back into the nest.

In the life of a baby Paradise fish, it seems to be a case of "Father, You've Been a Mother to Me!"

Mr. Rees feeds the Guppy fish tropical fish food and keeps the aquarium at a warm temperature. A water hyacinth plant grows in the aquarium.

Paul Marso, of Shenango street, raises Paradise fish, as a hobby. After the female fish lays eggs in a nest of bubbles on top of the water, the female is removed from the aquarium. This is, strange to say, because the baby fish would be eaten by the mother if she were left with them.

Two courageous French women and 17 hardy sailors, survivors of the auxiliary schooner Bretagne, which foundered off the Washington coast so quickly that her radio operator could not send out S. O. After tossing in a lifeboat for 21 hours, in mountainous seas, they drifted across the path of the lumber schooner, Whitney Olson, which took them to Los Angeles. Capt. ## Lawrence County League Banquet At Bessemer Is One Of Finest Ever Held

Borough Of Bessemer Plays Host To Baseball League With Splendid Event

William G. Andrews, President Of League Makes Fine Speech; Season Is Over

By "BUGS" WALTHER

The 1929 Lawrence County Baseball League was brought to an official close last evening at Bessemer high school, when 75 players, managers and officials of the league sat down to a fine banquet. The thriving little community of Bessemer played host to the ball players for the first time, and they did the job up in great style.

The banquet goes down in the annals as one of the finest ever held by the league. Carl H. Lago of Bessemer, a strong booster for baseball, and manager of the Bessemer team, had charge of the affair and came in for plenty of praise for the fine manner in which everything was arranged.

Very Fine Dinner

At eight o'clock the assemblage sat down to a fine dinner as has ever been served them. The dinner consisted of ham, baked potatoes, sweet potatoes, string beans, salad, soup, baked apples and all the other necessary trimmings, and to top it all off, apple pie with ice cream. A most tasty and delicious meal, served by eight selected sophomore girls of Bessemer high school, under the supervision of Miss Mary McLaughlin, domestic science instructor in the high school of the borough.

With the banquet end of the program out of the way, and everybody satisfied and "full up" with the many good things which had been completely served, the speaking part of the affair was begun.

Andrews Speaks

William G. Andrews, president of the league, made the introductory address and also introduced the toastmaster of the evening, Carl Montgomery, of Bessemer. Mr. Andrews said, in part, that he hoped next year would be the crowning year for the Lawrence County League. "It is our aim to have a bigger and better circuit in 1930, and this can only be accomplished by co-operation on the part of everyone concerned."

"Baseball seems to be on the wane, the crowds that attended the games this past year were not as large as they have been other years. Don't let the great national pastime die out in Lawrence county. Golf seems to have taken the place of baseball. New teams want franchises in our league next year," said Andrews.

The league officials were paid a tribute by Andrews as competent and efficient. It is hoped that next season the Lawrence County League can be run similar to the Beaver County League.

Carl Montgomery, chairman of the booster committee of Bessemer, as toastmaster, filled the bill to perfection. He was "pep" personified. We are planning great things for Bessemer in the immediate future, such as a new athletic field and other improvements," said Montgomery. He gave a fine reading on "A Twelve-Year-Old Boy at a Ball Game".

"Bessemer is mighty glad to be able to give you this banquet and we feel honored at your presence here this evening," was the high spot of the talk by the toastmaster.

Several Impromptu Speeches

There being no set program of speakers, the following responded with impromptu talks: Eddie Conner, secretary of the league; Alec Samuels, vice president; Commissioners Louis "Pick" Gillich and Charles "Bugs" Walther. Carl H. Lago, chairman of the banquet committee; Sam Ruelhe, a strong booster for athletics in Bessemer; Peter P. Capitola, president of the Italian A. A. baseball team, league champions; Ernie Palus of the Italian A. A.; Navarre of Hillsville; George Kulha of the Slovak A. C.; Jack Reider of the Italian A. A.; Patsy Colucci of Hillsville; Raymond Nolte of New Castle, league umpire; Earl Culbertson of the P. R. R. team; Alex Black, manager of the Italian A. A. team; Carm Sacco, business manager of the Italian A. A.; "Peck" Huston and Charles Landolph, News sport writer.

Each speaker was fired with enthusiasm for the league's success in 1929. Indications point to a most highly enjoyable round of baseball next summer.

Italians Honored Guests

The Italian A. A. team, winners of the championship this year, were honored guests at the banquet, and each speaker paid a glowing tribute to the Italians for having captured the title in their first season as members of the Lawrence County League. As Capitola said in the course of his talk, "we are going after the honors again next year, so you boys had better start building up strong teams right now." The P. R. R. team, winners of the first half title and runners-up to the Italians for the championship, were paid high compliments. During the banquet the Bessemer high school orchestra rendered many pleasing selections. Jimmy DeLawrence of New Castle was a special guest at the banquet.

Dan Howley Will Manage Cincinnati

(International News Service) CINCINNATI, Oct. 16.—Dan Howley, former manager of the St. Louis Browns, will manage the Cincinnati Reds next season. Sidney Weil, president of the local National league club, announced late Tuesday.

Weil and Howley conferred in Chicago Monday, Howley finally winning the preference over Wade Killefer, manager of the Missions club in the Pacific coast league.

Athletics Impressive In Series Victory As Chicago Cubs Falter

By DAVIS J. WALSH

International News Service Sports Editor NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Nobody was demanding a recount on the world series today but it was noteworthy that some of our more enlightened minds were engaged in hunting that while a good club won the world's championship, it may have been that a better club lost it. Their idea was that, although the Cubs lost to the Athletics at the seven-game distance, they probably would have won in a series of twenty-one games. This is a sterling thought and it is too bad that life in general cannot be conducted on this basis. By following its reasoning, nobody cannot be conducted on this basis. By following its reasoning, nobody would ever lose.

The fact of the matter is that the 1929 world series was decided as usual, by pitching and the breaks and the Philadelphia Athletics won because they got both of them. And just to be vulgarly practical about it, I cannot seem to lose sight of the nation that a team with the better pitching would hardly be at a disadvantage in a 21-game series, not to mention the fact that, in winning four of the first five games, it would be off to a splendid start over any route that might be named.

Macks Look Good

I could prove, at least to my own satisfaction, that the Athletics were the better ball club merely by calling attention to the pitching of Grove, Earnshaw, Ehmke and Walberg as against that of Root, Malone and Bush. But this is unnecessary. Fate always is on the side of the heavier artillery and fate it is who wins these world series, even before they are played.

Men spend sleepless night, worrying about what they will do on the ball field, and then go out and add years to their lives trying to do it. They forget that fate, having made his choice of the winner, won't be denied by anything they may or may not do about it.

It was fate, for instance, that the Cubs scored so many runs in the sixth inning of the fourth game on Saturday, thus prolonging the inning to a point where the sun was brought into a position to dazzle Wilson and Haas. Thus, by scoring less runs, the Cubs probably would have won the ball game. It is not necessary, of course, to point to the freak bound that Simmons' grounder took in eluding McMillan. This was an obvious decree of fate.

Fox's Great Hitter

What of Fox's home run that really won the first game, since it got Root out of the box? This smash, deserving though it was of all the luck it could get, barely caught the far corner of the center field stand. A foot or so to the right and it would have been a home run at all. And what of Bishop's hit in the ninth inning of the final game? He swung late, with the result that the ball cut inside third base by inches. Without Bishop on base, Haas' home run might have been just a home run, although personally I doubt this.

They call these things breaks and either rejoice or complain bitterly about them, according to the way they go. But I notice the breaks usually go to the better ball team. There is no doubt in my mind that they did so this time.

Fuller And Firpo To Clash Monday

Firpo Wants Chance To Prove That He Is Master Of Fuller

HARRY AGREES TO WEIGH 162 POUNDS

By ED FRITZ

Henry Firpo of Cleveland will get a chance to prove whether he is master of Harry Fuller of Niagara Falls when they battle in a return 10 round bout at Jolly Bowl Monday night.

The middleweights were remated, only after a week of negotiations which at times looked as though they could not be completed successfully. However, Jimmie Dunn, manager of Firpo waived two pounds of weight and Al Fleurant, pilot for Fuller said he would let Fuller weigh 162 pounds for the bout and the match was made.

Firpo requested the second match as he lost the first they fought here by a fair margin. After the bout he felt downcast and declared:

Fuller is Confident

"I have never refused to meet anyone a second time and having lost the decision I want to meet Fuller again. I am satisfied I am his master and believe I can prove it."

Firpo went on to say that he gave away about five pounds and did not have Jimmie Dunn in his corner. "Put me in there again and if Dunn is in my corner, I'll knock his ears off."

When Fuller was apprised of this he and Fleurant passed through New Castle Friday, he declared: "I can beat Firpo every day in the week."

It seems as though considerable enmity has been worked up between the two. Jimmie Dunn says that he will put extra work on Firpo and Fleurant says Harry will be in great shape.

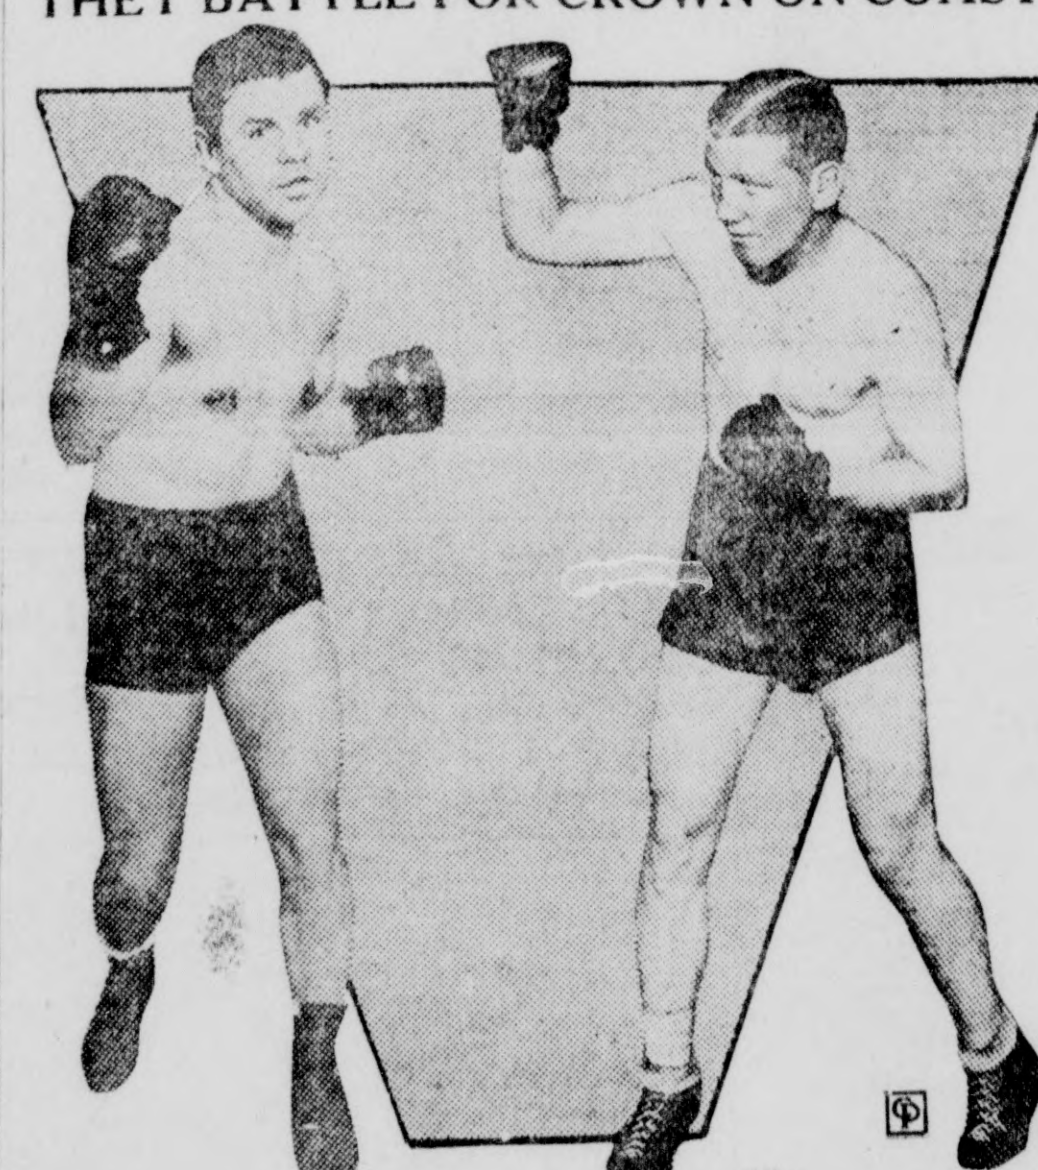

would not be revealed until next Tuesday.

The majority of baseball men are of the opinion Art Fletcher will nab it and that Babe Ruth has been eliminated as a possibility.

In contrast to this opinion was the belief of some that the Yankees would startle the baseball world by announcing that John McGraw, for 27 years manager of the New York Giants, would head the Yanks in 1930. Regarding the possibility of McGraw going to the Yanks, Secretary David Barrow said the Giant plot is not the man the Yankees now have in mind, but that "doesn't mean we wouldn't like to get him."

Vandergrift To Play Saturday

New Castle Fails To Get Vandergrift For Game Here Friday Night

Vandergrift high school will play New Castle high football team at Franklin field on Saturday afternoon.

This crypt statement was made by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today. Coach "Ham" Hudson of Vandergrift has refused to bring his team here for a night game.

Gardner was desirous of having one more night battle at the stadium and did everything possible to get the Vandergrift team here, but to no avail.

The Tin City eleven will give New Castle high a real battle in the indication from their work earlier in the season. Butler and Leeburg with strong teams have fallen victims to the Hudson coached team. Leeburg fell before the fine offensive drive of the Tin Wallopers 45 to 0 last week. Butler high succumbed 13 to 0 in the first game of the season.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is giving the locals plenty of stiff workouts this week. New Castle seeks vindication for that 20 to 13 setback at the hands of Westinghouse. A fighting New Castle team will take the field this Saturday.

Grid Camp Briefs

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—With all regulars in shape and the second and third squads showing surprising strength Columbia today was confident that it would humble Dartmouth in Saturday's big game for New York.

In scrimmage yesterday the reserves shone brilliantly, preventing the varsity from scoring in a forty-minute scrimmage.

WEST POINT, Oct. 16.—As the squad is scheduled to leave for Cambridge tomorrow, Army will undergo its last real practice for Harvard today.

Yesterday saw all three of the plains gridrons utilized as Coach Jones drove the entire squad through a rigorous drill.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 16.—Should Princeton lose Saturday's engagement with Cornell from lack of an aerial attack it won't be because the Tigers haven't worked on that phase of the game. For the past two days Coach Roper has spent the major part of the afternoon drilling his squad in passing.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 16.—Disappointed with the work of the right side of the navy line head coach Ingram decided today to replace Captain Koepke at right guard with Swan. Ingram believes that Swan's added weight will add to the defensive strength of that side of the forward wall.

In Tornado's Path

Charlie BACHMAN, FLORIDA COACH—HIS FIGHTING GATORS LED THE NATION IN SCORING IN 1928—CAN THEY REPEAT?

Capt. RAINEY CANTON LEADS FLORIDA AGAINST GEORGIA TECH'S GOLDEN TORNADO SATURDAY.

THE TECH GAME OUGHTA BE A RIOT WITH CRABTREE, MIZELL, CANTON AND THOMSON DOING THEIR STUFF!

Dixie is turning out most formidable football teams in ever-increasing numbers. Georgia Tech's Golden Tornado and Alabama's Crimson Tide have ranked for years among the nation's very best teams, demonstrating, in part, that a cold climate is not essential to red-hot gridiron ability.

This Saturday the University of Florida will try to tame the Golden Tornado at Atlanta in a game which should have much bearing on the South's championship this season.

Georgia Tech was rated generally as the 1928 national champions, while Florida rolled up that year's highest total score—336—in winning all but one game (Tennessee beat 'em, 13-12).

Coach Charles W. Bachman has his Florida Gators pointed for this Tech contest with Clyde Crabtree, field general and backfield superstar, as his trump card, ably assisted by some bright talent from last year's freshmen "baby gators," his twin star, Capt. Rainey Sawton; and a powerful well-knit line. "Crabtree will prove one of the greatest backs to Florida's history," Gator fans agree. "And this year he's playing with our greatest team."

However, the Golden Tornado will be the favorite with Warner Mizell, Stumpy Thomson and Bob Randolph, et al, tearing away behind a stalwart line in the center of which Capt. Harold Rusk will be filling the mighty shoes of the great Peter Pund.

Tech, according to early season reports, had a not-so-stroke line, but Coach Alexander and Line Coach Fincher will have a front wall by Saturday that should prove tough for the Gators to bite, crawl or glide through. And these forwards will bore some holes for such a sparkling backfield that even the loss of Fater Lumpkin, secondary defense ace and great interior on runs, who turned pro, is hardly felt.

Tornado or breeze, that Tech-Florida clash should have its whirlwind moments.

Geneva Looks For Tough Battle With Thiel On Saturday

Geneva Starts Bid For Tri-State Conference Honors In Coming Game

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 16.—Geneva College starts a bid for the tri-state conference grid title this Saturday when in a home game the Tornado opposes the Thiel Lutherans. Any visions of a set-up that existed in regard to this encounter prior to Saturday disappeared when the news was announced that Thiel went to the front in the conference championship quest by beating Waynesburg, 6-2.

Gold and White fans, while enthusiastic at the remarkable showing made against Davis Elkins were nevertheless disappointed in the sense that the Genevans had numerous opportunities to score a win over the Scarlet Hurricane and thereby toss a surprise of national note into collegiate circles. Geneva's season percentage is now hovering around the 500 mark as a result of one win, one defeat and one tie.

Those who look for Geneva to present a strong claim to conference honors this year will have their opinions tested this Saturday in the Thiel fracas. The Lutherans were expected to be weak this season due to losing a really exceptional player in Stan Berkman, Monaca product. The manner in which they opened up an aerial drive in the final quarter against the Titans, however, with the Ward-to-Schemick duo being outstanding, gives promise of much trouble ahead for the Geneva defense.

The 4,500,000 automobiles manufactured in 1928 in the United States required 233,000 bales of cotton for their tires, tops, upholstery, padding, brake linings, washers, gaskets, fan belts, insulating material and so forth.

Will Utilize New Junior High Field

George Washington-Shenango High To Clash Friday In First Game

George Washington junior high school's newly developed athletic field in the rear of the Euclid avenue building will be formally ushered into use next Friday afternoon when the orange and black squad of the junior high oppose the Shenango township high school team.

While two previous practice engagements have already been played on the new field, this week will mark the first time that it has been used for an inter-school contest.

A pep assembly for the students will feature the Friday morning chapel at 11 o'clock. The game will start promptly at 3:45 p. m.

Both Washington and Shenango are on their toes as far as the game is concerned. Washington has three victories and one defeat to its credit while the East New Castle eleven has been defeated twice. Each time, however, both squads furnished real action and Friday's contest promises to be just as good.

Many improvements have been made on the junior high field this past summer and it now ranks with the best athletic grounds in this vicinity.

Penn Hopes To Beat California Team Saturday

Penn Team Will Have Varied And Shifty Attack To Use Against Coast Eleven

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—Penn today will continue its work of building a varied and shifty attack for use in Saturday's big intersectional game with California.

The red and blue has depended almost entirely on straight football in the preliminary skirmishes and it was not until this week that Coach Young began introducing variety into the offense. Several new plays were tried out yesterday and more were to be adopted today.

The California squad is scheduled to arrive here late today and will take its first workout on Franklin field on Thursday.

Victory

Ben Franklin High school team defeated the Seniors of Senior High, in a Class League football game, at Franklin stadium on Tuesday afternoon. The final score was 13 to 0.

DiCarbo-Kominic Score
About midway of the third quarter DiCarbo plunged the ball over the goal-line for Franklin High, and late in the fourth and final period.

Kominic, standing, Franklin half-back intercepted a Senior forward pass and raced through a broken field 40-yards for a touchdown. Regan, DiCarbo, Kominic, Richel and Moore played stellar football for the victors. For the Seniors the work of McLaughlin, Elder, Ostrosky, and Diffey featured.

The Franklin High team, well balanced and smart, looks like the probable winners of the Class League this year.

SORDS POINTS

He Stars With Pistol Or Pigskin

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer

John "Hertz" Murrell is a lot of things at West Point, but, most important of all to the cadets at this time of the year, he is a member of the football team—a 190-pound full-back with a charge of dynamite in every ounce.

For the past three years Murrell has run riot against opposing teams, and again this fall in the early games the Army flash has demonstrated that he is still the same old threat, with a little more added for a finishing touch. He scored the Army's first touchdown of the season in their initial game with Boston University and carried the ball for three of the West Pointers' five touchdowns against Gettysburg the following Saturday.

Murrell tips the scales at 190 pounds, is five feet nine inches in height and is unusually fast for his weight. Before coming to West Point he attended the University of Minnesota, where he played one year of football and was on the track team. At the Army he stepped right out in his pieb year and made the football, track and basketball teams.

In addition to his athletic prowess, Murrell, a cadet lieutenant, is a pistol sharpshooter, rifle marksman and qualified machine gunner. He is also a member of the cadet choir and leader of the Boy Scouts.

Will Plan Ellwood Boy Scout Program

A meeting of the Ellwood City district of the Lawrence County Boy Scout Council has been called for Thursday evening at the home of the field executive in that city at eight o'clock.

Plans for activities of the district for the remainder of the fall will be outlined.

SORDS POINTS

Pennsylvania, Here They Come—And How!

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist for Central Press

When the University of California eleven takes the field against Pennsylvania at Philadelphia October 19, eastern football fans will get a glimpse of two of the far west's hopes for all-American honors this fall in Captain Roy Reigels and Benny Lom.

In spite of his working under the handicap of trying to live down the famous run in the wrong direction of last year, Reigels is expected to do some brilliant things before the end of the season. Tipping the scales at 175 pounds, he is a lightweight, as the usual conception of a center goes, but he knows how to play the position as it should be played.

Halfback Benny Lom is the foremost among potential all-Americans at California. He is a triple-threat man in the true sense of the word. He kicks, passes and carries the ball with unusual facility. In a broken field his shifting, turning, spinning runs invariably leave behind him a string of eluded tacklers.

This is the final year of football for both boys and they are out to make the best of it. And they have some mighty stiff opposition to face. In addition to the Pennsylvania game, tussles with the University of Southern California at Los Angeles on November 2, and the annual big game at Stanford on November 23, are the highlights on their program.

Pipoly Starring For Titans This Season

JOS. PIPOLY.

Joseph Pipoly former Struthers, O., high school star is going big guns for Coach "Dike" Beede at Westminster this fall. Pipoly was the big star against Fordham at New York. In the Allegheny game he came through with the touchdown that won the game.

Westminster will depend a lot upon Pipoly, Tweedy and Brownlee on the ends to break up the Grove City forward passing attack Saturday. Pusch Waleski, Kar mer and Munson are all triple-threat backs who can pass and receive.

French Note On Naval Parley Is Delivered Today

French Ambassador Will Deliver Acceptance Of Parley Today

SEEK RETENTION OF SUBMARINES

Diplomatic Course Followed In Framing Note, No Definite Reservations

(International News Service) PARIS, Oct. 16.—French acceptance of the invitation to participate in the London five-power naval parley will be delivered to the British foreign office by the French ambassador this afternoon, it was announced today. The reply will be published Thursday.

In accepting the invitation, France makes no reservations, it was stated in authoritative circles, but it is pointed out it is superfluous to define France's position in view of her traditional attitude at former conferences.

Hope To Retain Subs.
This is interpreted as meaning that France will demand retention of her submarine arm as the only means she can protect her interest with the small amount of money for naval armaments at her disposal.

The acceptance declares that the forthcoming conference will undoubtedly prove a great step forward in general disarmament, if only in reaching a definite decision among the five naval powers as to their future moves in the matter of floating armaments.

It is added that in the meantime France is continuing "diplomatic conversations" with Italy and Japan on the subject of disarmament.

On the basis of information obtainable at this time, it appears France has taken a diplomatic course in

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights, if you are like thousands of others.

Help cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do what which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. Thousands of take Olive Tablets are never cured with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, a rapid liver, bad disposition, pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound; known by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

framing her acceptance, evading mention of any definite reservations.

Seeks Protection.
The allusion, however, to the "superfluous" of setting forth her position makes it clear France intends to press strongly for the right to build sufficient submarines to protect her Mediterranean and Atlantic interests.

In addition reference to the forthcoming conference as a "stepping stone" to further general disarmament conferences reflects France's previous attitude in the matter of disarmament, indicating while she is willing to co-operate to the fullest extent in the parley born of the negotiations of President Hoover and Premier MacDonald of Britain, she still regards the league of nations preparatory disarmament commission as the body to which all disarmament discussions must eventually be taken.

Telephone Heads Address Employees

Hobart C. Young, Former Local Employee, Now Vice-President Is Speaker

More than 350 telephone employees from New Castle, Sharon, Rochester, Beaver Falls, Ellwood City, Zellenople and other points in this district attended the Bell Telephone Company meeting last night in The Cathedral to hear addresses by Hobart C. Many New Castle people remember Mr. Young as he was at one time stationed by the Company at New Castle, Pa., as a salesman. Mr. Young stated that he was very much pleased with the spirit of service that motivates the employee body, both collectively and individually, in its relations with the Company's thousands of customers.

Mr. Chesterman reviewed the accomplishments of the New Castle District organization during the first nine months of this year and outlined the company's plans for the remaining months of this year and for next year. ## McLean Scores In Shakespeare Role

Lovers of Shakespearean drama witnessed a most creditable performance Tuesday evening when R. D. McLean, veteran Shakespearean actor presented "The Merchant of Venice," supported by a cast consisting of the members of the School of Drama of Carnegie Tech.

While the crowd was not large, those who were present appreciated the work of Mr. McLean. He is an actor of the old school, thorough, and painstaking. His portrayal of Shylock the money lender, was well received. The supporting cast contained a number of youngsters who show promise of developing.
